Foreword

Every educational institution has a challenge to meet. This is the task of helping young people meet life situations intelligently. Throughout the years, Waukesha High School has successfully met this challenge. Most of its graduates have been taught the proper attitudes toward Honesty, Industry, Integrity, and Morality.

Many people in all walks of life claim Waukesha High School as their Alma Mater. They each remember with pride their high school experiences. They feel that the school song "Waukesha Loyalty" belongs partly to them and they never hear it without thinking about their high school days.

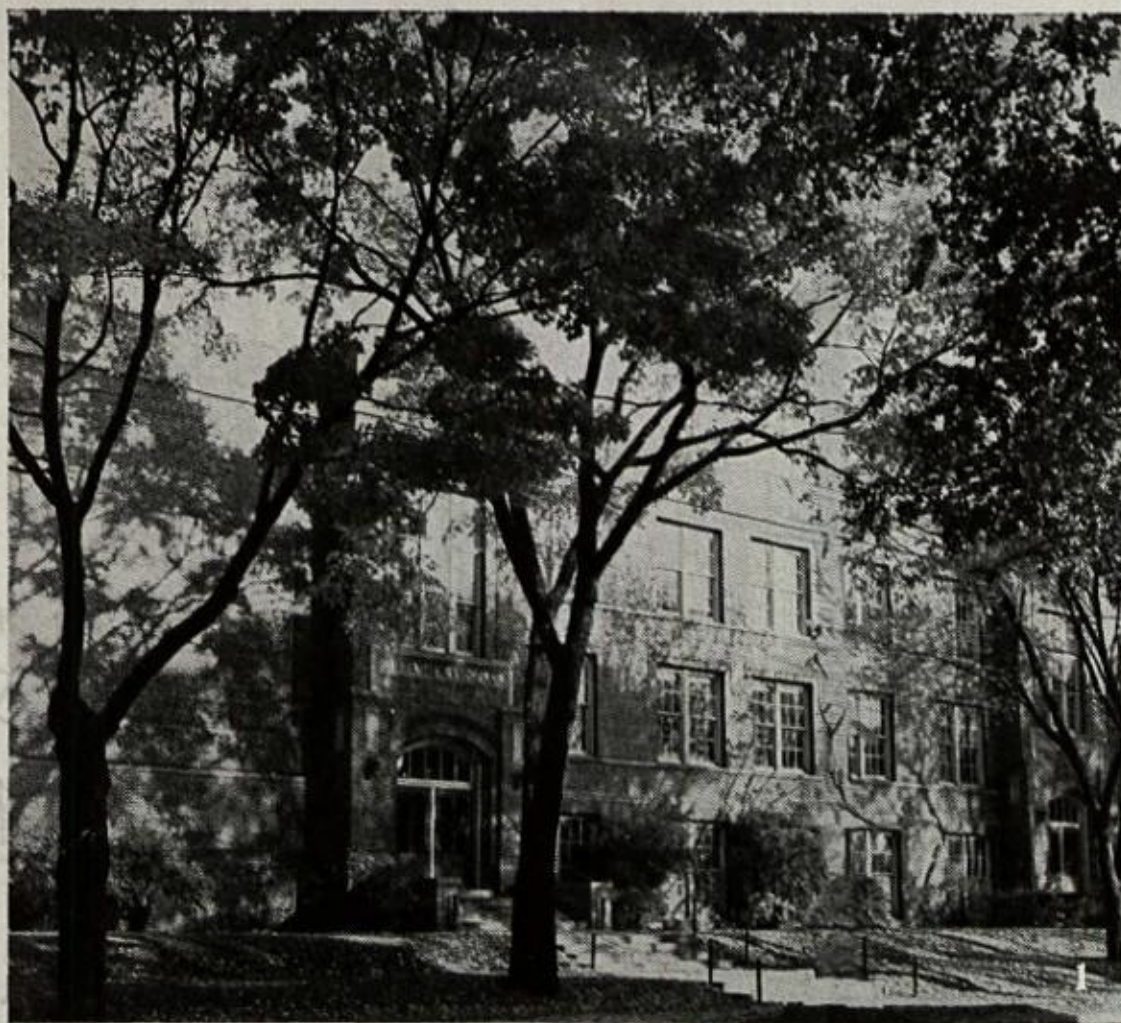

Those who are at Waukesha High in this year 1950 are proud of their school too. They realize that it is outstanding in some departments and lacking in others. Most of the problems result from the over crowded conditions. Regardless of the many inconveniences the students and teachers alike take great pride in their school.

Since the Loyalty Song symbolizes the spirit of this high school and its influence in the life of Waukesha, the Megaphone staff presents this "Waukesha Loyalty" Edition.

"To be a real Alma Mater, a school must make men and women of her boys and girls. She must constantly demand their best, not because it belongs to her, but because it is owed to them. For that which is due children is not ease and luxury, but a conditioning of the brain and muscles, a habit of work, a sense of humor, and a self-respect born of integrity."

Instruction

Since a student must spend at least twenty-two hours each week in a classroom, it's natural for him to expect to learn something, whether it be science, math, or English. Waukesha High School offers great variety in this curriculum. Courses are planned for those going on to college in order that they will concentrate on the academic fields. Others, who plan on going to work when they graduate, take those subjects which will give them the most practical training and experience. This varied program is also helpful to those who are still undecided about their future. Regardless of the subject matter taught, all classes have certain experiences in common: learning to be an active participant in a group; learning to respect the opinions of others; and learning how to think, not what to think. These lessons are perhaps more important than knowing Einstein's laws or Shakespeare's plays. Good learning depends upon good teachers — not taskmasters but advisers, counsellors, and friends. Good will and co-operation between faculty and student body encourages interest in classwork. Anyone stepping into the crowded rooms at Waukesha High is impressed by this fine spirit.

Helpful Administrators and

R. G. Hein — Superintendent of Schools

MR. HEIN

If there has ever been a superintendent of schools who has won his way into the hearts of the students, it has been Mr. Hein with his friendly "Hello". This greeting has always suggested the warmth and sincere interest of true friends. After receiving his M.A. from the University of Wisconsin, he served as principal in Fari-bault, Minnesota; Waupun, Wisconsin; and was both superintendent and principal in South Milwaukee. Mr. Hein and the school board have already begun an extensive building program which will mean a scoreboard and new steel bleachers for Haertel Field by this fall as well as two new elementary schools.

In view of all this, it certainly looks like Mr. Hein is putting his philosophy to work. "We shouldn't be satisfied with just doing good. We should work toward being the best."

Interested Friends of All Students

MR. SHIELDS

If you can imagine it, our new principal, Mr. C. M. Shields, started his career as a geography teacher. In fact, he was so interested in geography that one summer he rode a bicycle all the way from Portland, Maine to Wisconsin.

But though Mr. Shields might have started on a bicycle, he discarded it long ago for the job of being principal at Merrill, then Ashland, Beaver Dam, and finally Waukesha. He received his Ph.B. and Ph.M. from the University of Wisconsin.

Students have come to recognize Mr. Shields as a principal who is not only interested in the student body as a whole, but in individuals too. No issue is too minor nor is any problem of the school too big to be solved. Whatever the issue, his decision is, "What is best for the student."

Commercial

Sophomore bookkeepers keep their records straight.

They learn the mechanics of the mimeograph in office practice, but Betty, Kay, and Garnet seem to have it down pat.

Using the two finger system of typing may be fun but it surely isn't an effective way of getting things finished. Learning to type correctly will increase efficiency. Typing is useful to anyone regardless of his profession. Shorthand is taught to students desiring to be secretaries or stenographers. Clerical practice and commercial workshop give them first-hand experience.

People living in this modern world should have some knowledge of bookkeeping even if only to keep the budget straight. Bookkeeping teaches how to keep an accurate record of all business transactions and serves as a foundation for all accounting. Salesmanship and commercial law help to prepare students for other occupations in the business field.

English and Social Studies

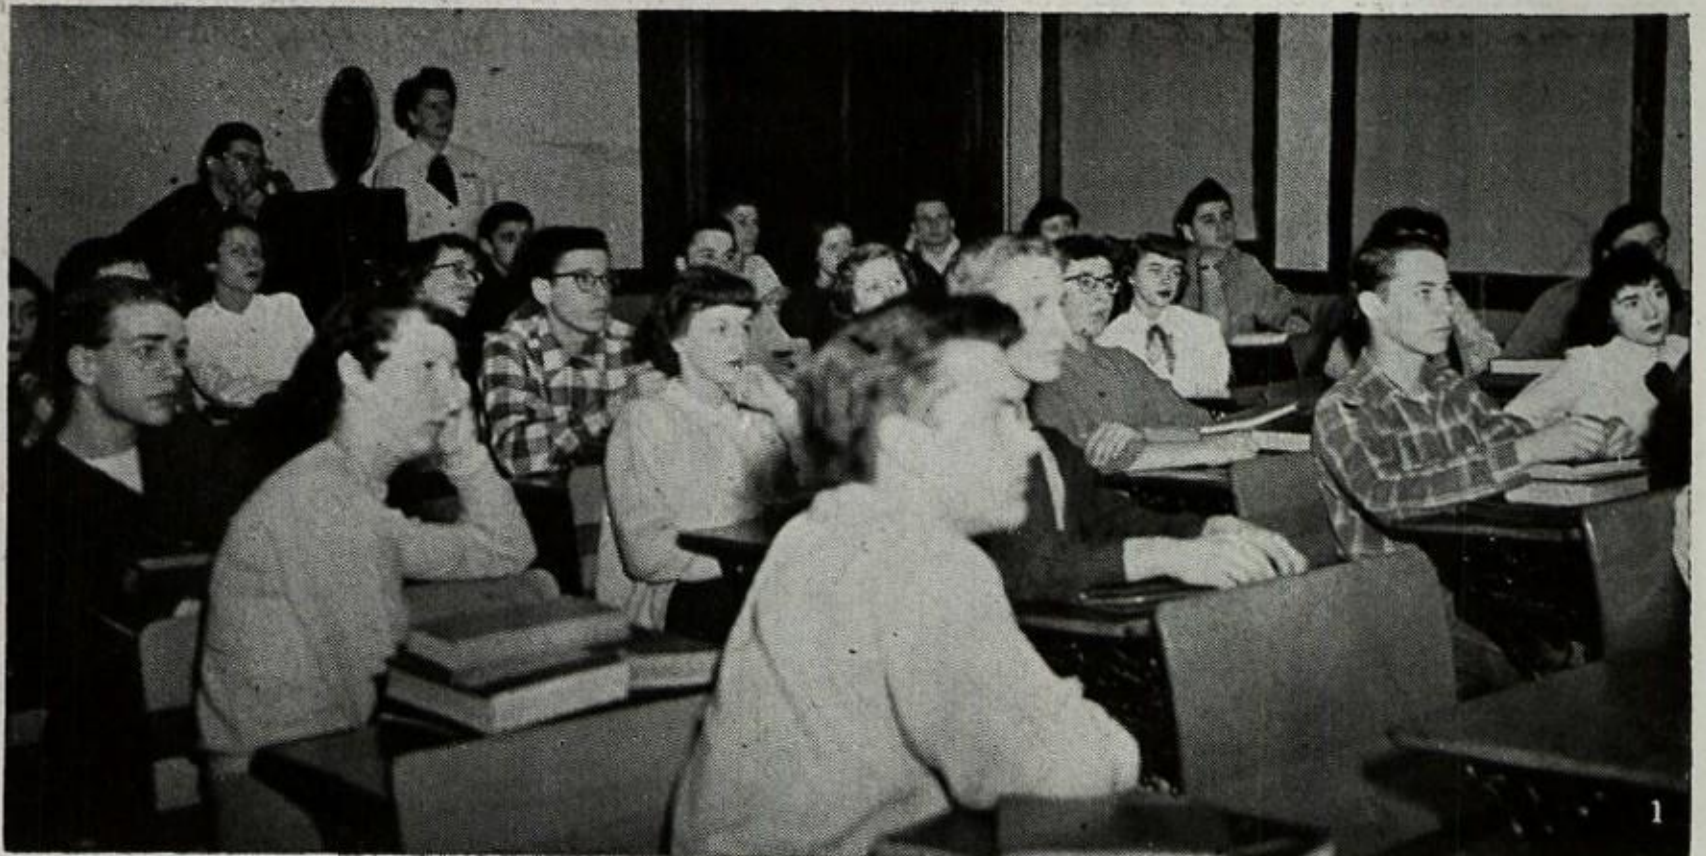

Ronnie makes a point forcefully in this American problems discussion.

"Junior-Highers" get acquainted with the globe as they locate distant places in the news.

Films help U. S. history classes visualize the story of America.

SOCIAL STUDIES

In these days of Communism and loyalty probes, social studies play an important part in American life. World history helps the student to understand the civilization of all the countries from ancient times to present day. The story of our own country is given in United States history. American problems classes study the problems of the present day to help make them intelligent citizens. To round out the program the student studies the workings of his government in the freshman year. They also learn about some of the professions to help them plan their careers.

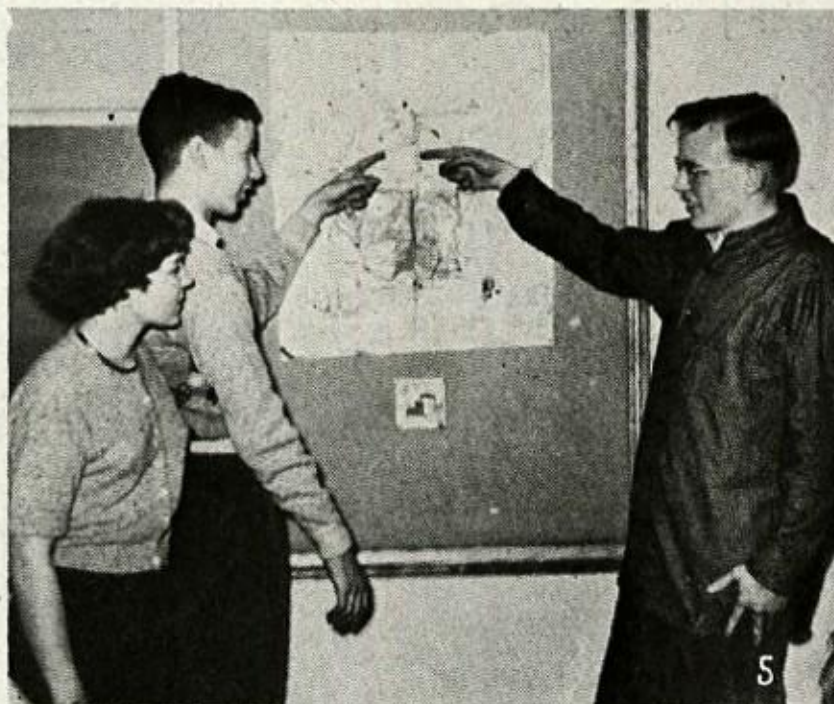

ENGLISH

The study of English in high school is not just the application of the mechanics of grammar. It is actually the study of the appreciation of language. Students are constantly exposed to the different types of literature of both the present and the past. Then, reading, discussing, and analyzing, they acquire a real understanding that goes beyond mere technical proficiency in writing and speaking. This year an exchange teacher from Canada has broadened this understanding with her new ideas and unique approach.

CORE CURRICULUM

The combination of English and social studies under one teacher in the seventh and eighth grades is called core curriculum. This also includes an activity period, during which projects are carried on which help the students understand the topic under discussion.

"Treasure Island" offers many adventures to the freshman reader as they search for the buried gold.

Every month an Atlantic Monthly.

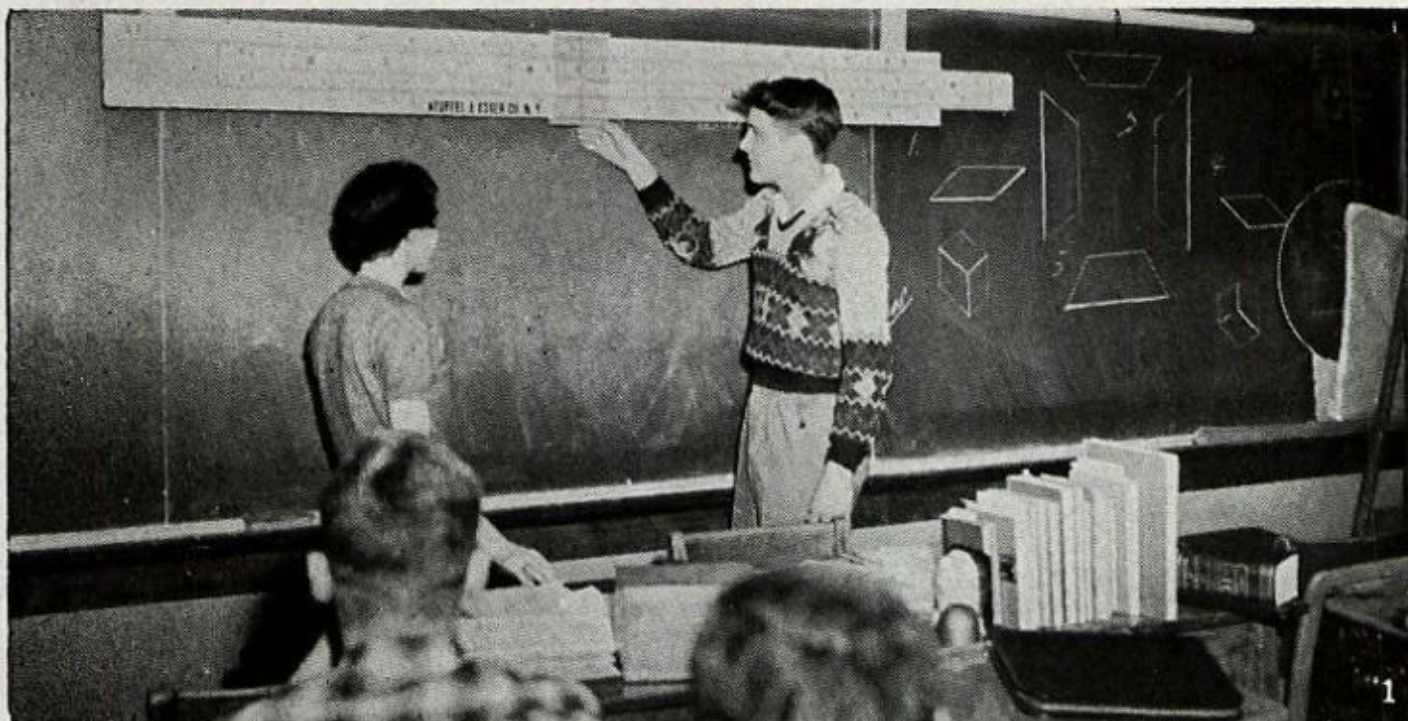

Mathematics

There has always been a universal language — mathematics. Algebraic formulas mean the same thing everywhere, whether the industrial formulas be figured in dollars, pounds, francs, or pesos. Geometry in everyday life means construction and building, even more important after the war. Engineering depends upon many phases of mathematics and trigonometry is the bridge which links them together. Although most people don't intend to be engineers, they still need math for the simple everyday problems of balancing the checkbook and figuring income tax. Thus math is the medium for people of all countries and in all walks of life.

Upper Picture—Wayne puts his knowledge of slide rules to work in trig class.

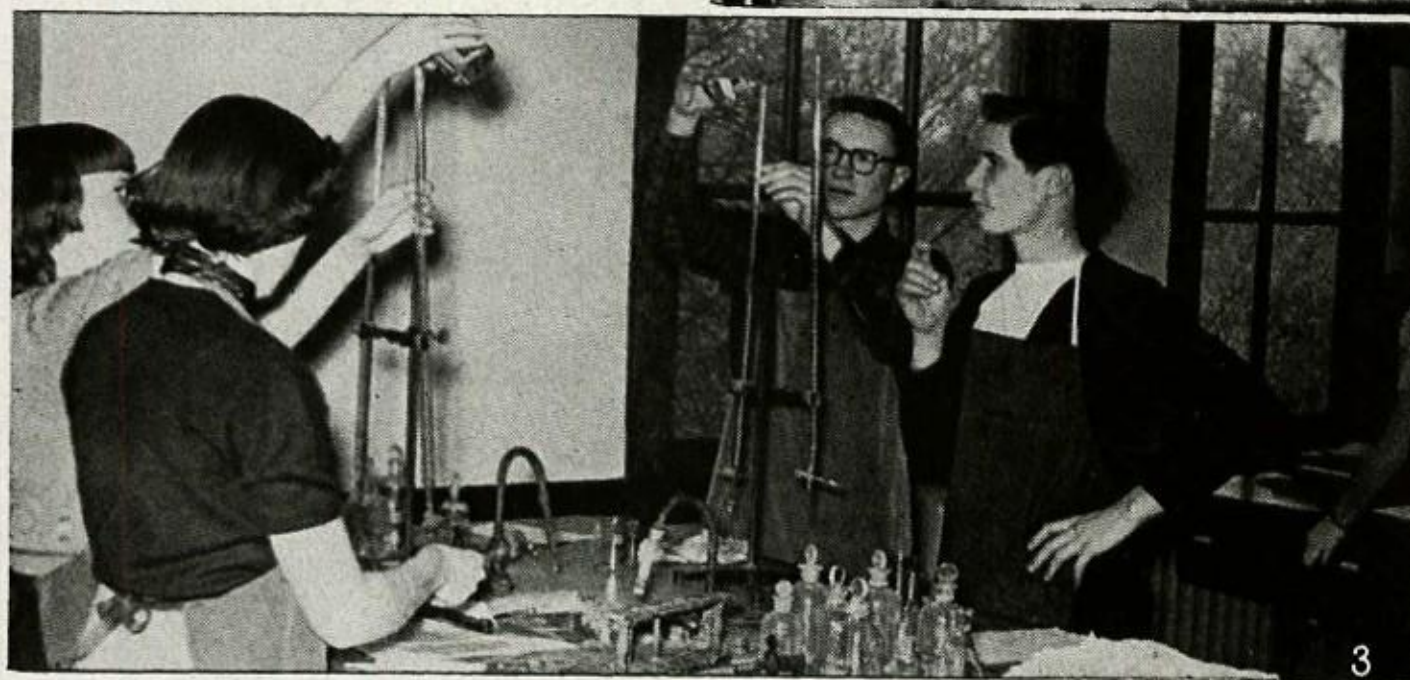

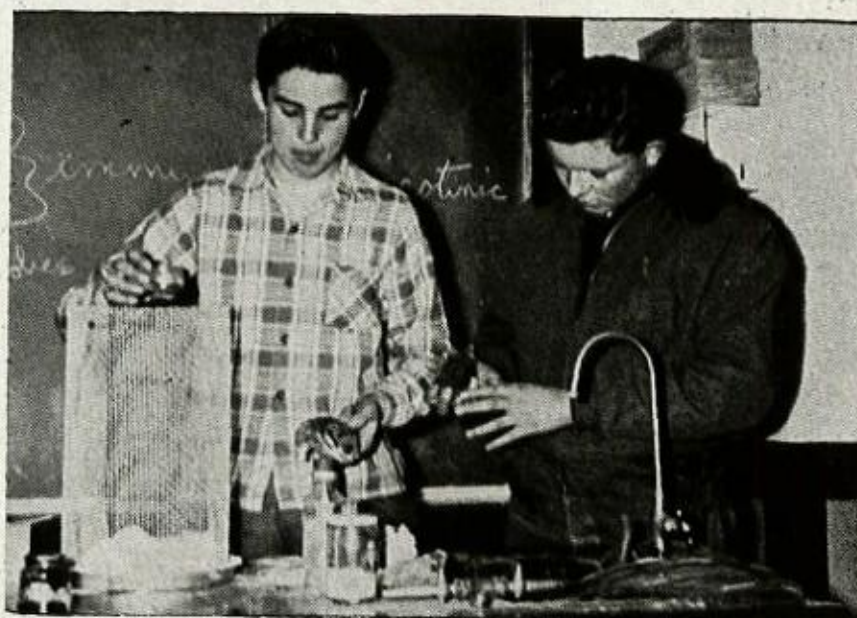

Lower Picture—"The Geometry of Highway Signs" makes seventh grade math more interesting.

Science

Proof that people are curious is found in a child's first question, "Why?", and science gives them an opportunity to satisfy their curiosity. In junior high this is done through general science. Biology is the study of all forms of life and shows them what makes them tick. In physics they learn about the laws and principles of all mechanical things. Chemistry gives them the chance to experiment and find out the composition of various compounds. This curiosity has led men to make great discoveries, until today the circle of science is in all the things which are taken for granted, such as clothes, safe diet, transportation, and electricity.

Art, Music and Language

Working with ceramics, art classes create lovely pottery.

Hors d'oeuvres are the appetizers before a meal. The art, music and language in high school are the appetizers for a life of enriched enjoyment. They are samplings of creative expressions that have their practical place in the world; the actual making of something usable in art class; the becoming more proficient in a phase of music; the knowledge gained of any foreign language. However, the great worth of fine arts and languages goes beyond just the practical application. Students are brought in contact with these finer things of life and can subsequently develop a cultural taste for them. They acquire an appreciation for modern art, operatic arias and choral singing, Spanish literature, Virgil and German. While it is hardly probable that all the students who take part in this program will adopt these fields as their life work, some of them will; and the others will be able to meet life with broadened minds and greater understanding.

Miss Erickson explains the next song to her junior high music class.

Physical Education

What makes boys' hair stand up and fight and girls' hair lie down and die? It's pool class. Learning the basic strokes comes first, but after that there's diving, water acrobatics and even a senior life saving class. Gym class is also part of the phy. ed program and includes a wide variety of sports. Those who enjoy a fast moving game with lots of competition will probably like basketball or volleyball. Girls may prefer modern dancing or badminton. After they've gotten the skills down "pat" during the first two years, there's an opportunity to take a leaders' course and become either a pool or gym leader. But even if they're not proficient enough, phy. ed brings enjoyment to something very near an "American Heritage"—spectator sports.

Agriculture and Home

It's so much fun to bake cookies that eighth graders do dishes with a smile.

The girls learn the right way to bathe a baby in their twelfth grade home ec. class.

HOME ECONOMICS

From plain sewing and cooking to color schemes and fancy desserts, the girls gain knowledge of homemaking skills. They learn the essentials of cooking and sewing, then go on to study child care, interior decoration, and home nursing.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Industrial arts is a course in which the boys increase their manual skills, by making any article they choose. From the pattern and blueprint stage it requires careful work for a finished product to come out as intended. While it is in the making, the boys learn the fundamentals of woodworking, mechanical drawing, drafting, and machine work.

AGRICULTURE

Waukesha High School has the largest agricultural department in Wisconsin, and therefore, sponsors many activities. Included in the regular course are a soil and a milk testing laboratory which are conducted during the whole year. The boys also learn maintenance and repair work which are necessary on the modern, mechanized farm.

Industrial Arts Economics

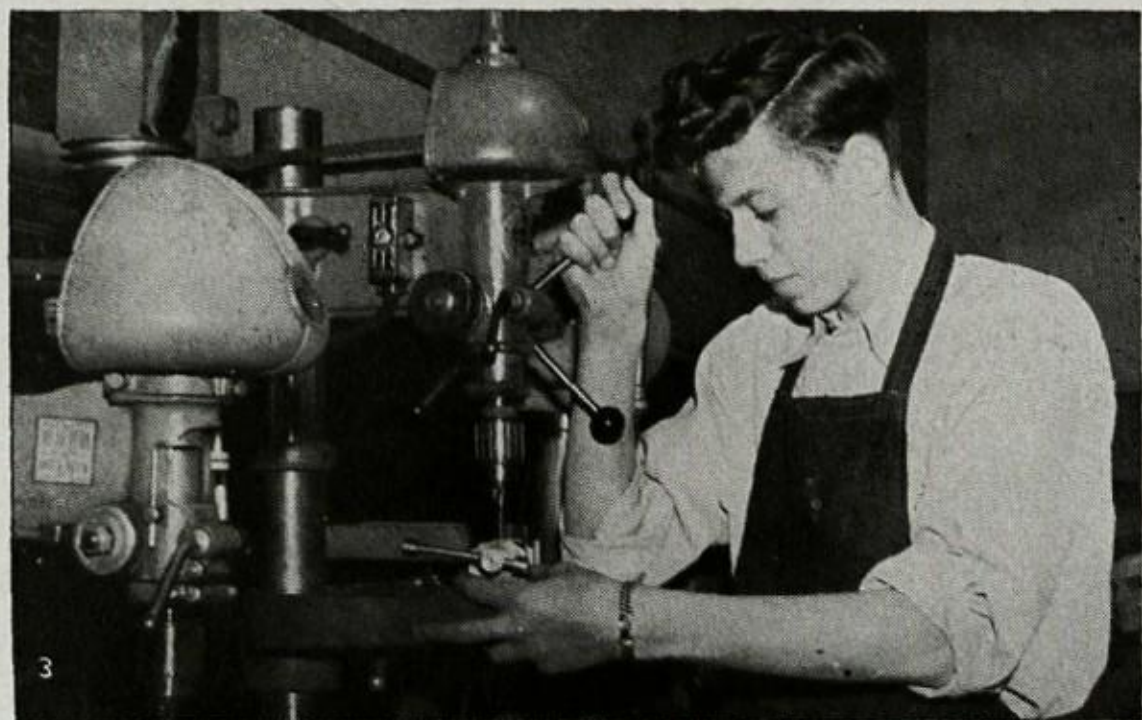

Senior boys make plans for their homes of tomorrow.

Art beams with pride over his Ag project.

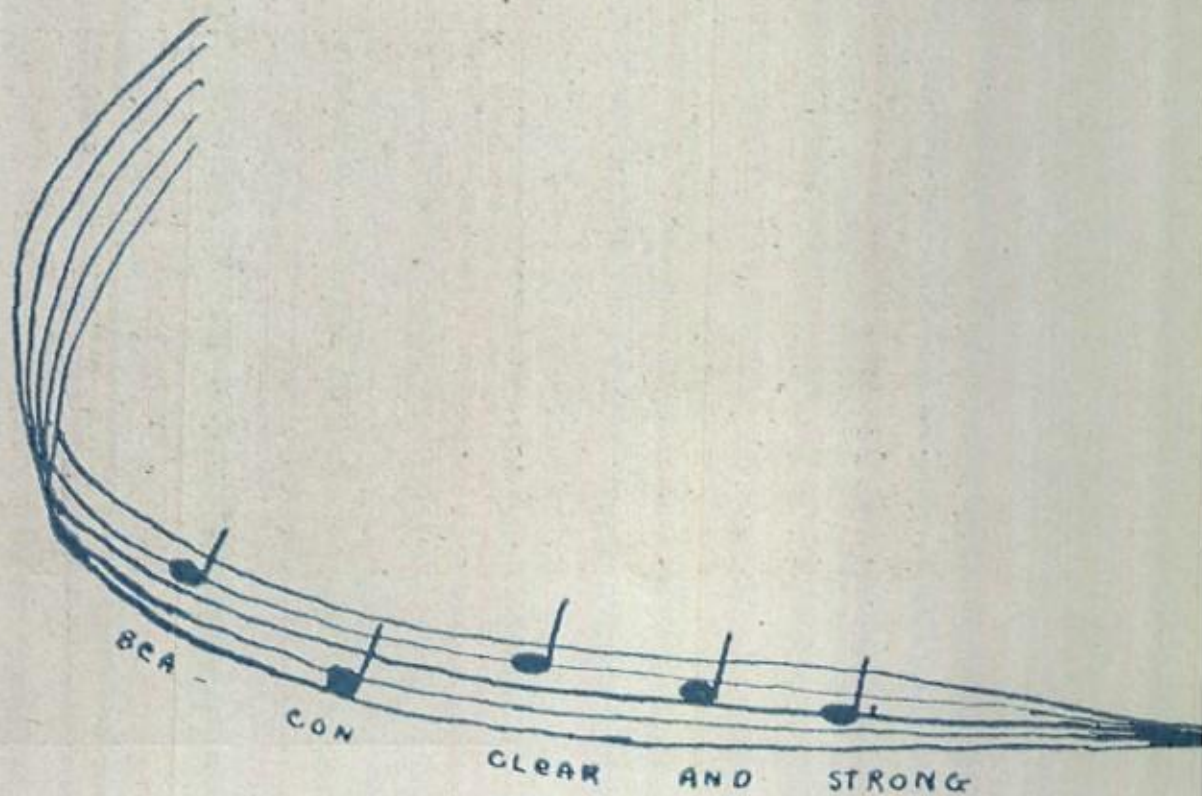

The difficulties of running a machine are smoothed out in machine shop class.

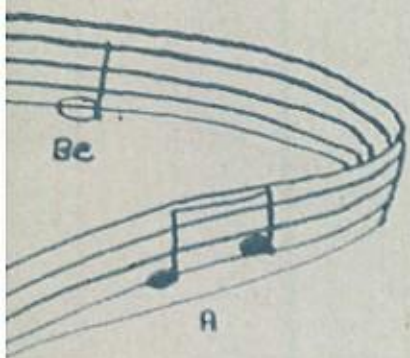

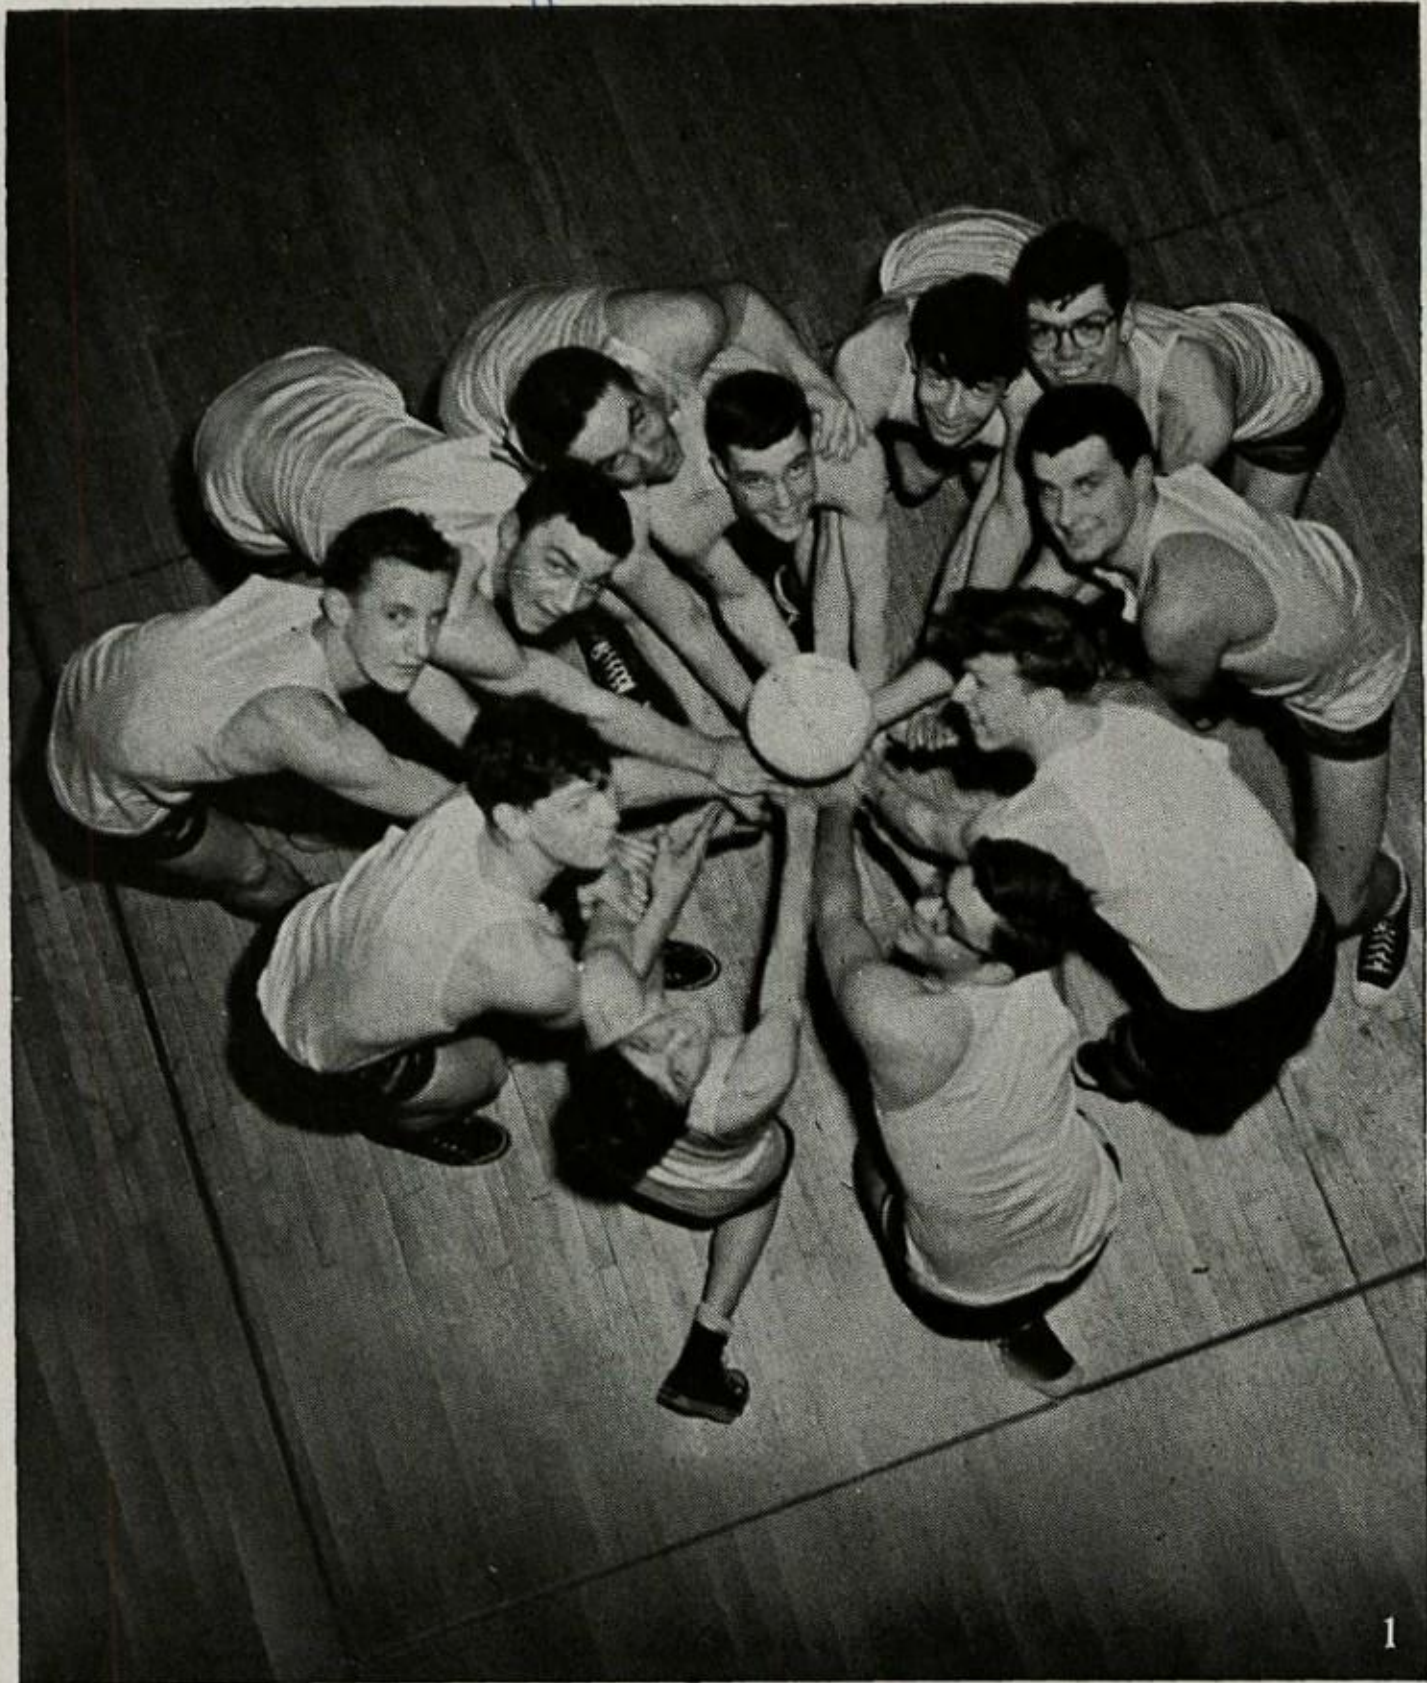

Sports

Whenever one sees in the papers a headline telling that Waukesha has won another football game or has another winning track team, the things that are high school are vividly brought back to mind. The sports program is not only important for winning championships and games, but also for building bodies, and helping every fellow learn the meaning of teamwork. Every athlete will remember the strong friendships that were made on the gridiron or the basketball floor, not only with his teammates but with his opponents. The feeling of victory is known only to the one who has worked hard and has put in much time, striving for perfection. The athlete knows this feeling and knows that it has come as a result of his training. He must also have, or develop, the ability of accepting defeat honorably and graciously. These lessons are valuable, not only on the athletic field, but also through life and they will shine as a "beacon clear and strong."

With a Push and a Pound, The

FOOTBALL 1949

Waukesha took to the gridiron late in August to start practice under Coach Russ Owen, the third new coach in as many seasons. Using the "T-formation" Coach Owen got right down to business on the first day of practice. Much "banging of heads" (as Owen would say) was needed before the Blackshirts were ready to launch their campaign. Lack of experience was the biggest problem. Of the 60 boys that turned out for practice, only a few had seen action the previous season.

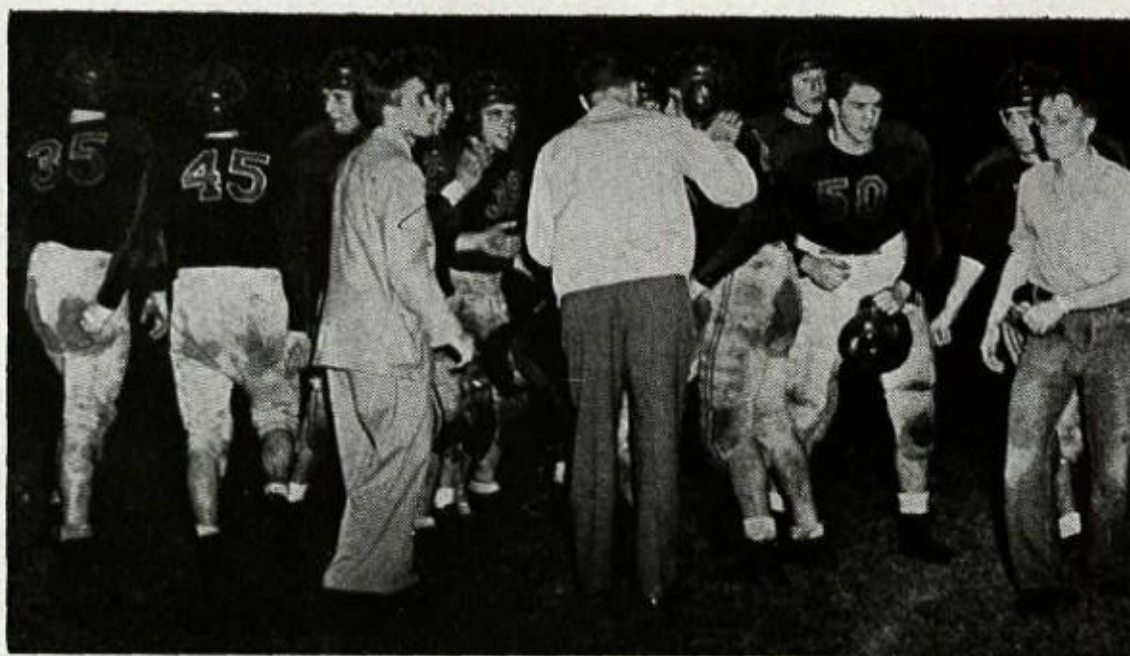

After three weeks of tough practice the Shirts traveled to Whitefish Bay for the season opener. Although they were rated very much the underdog, the boys gave the Bays a run for their money. Trailing 14-0 in the 4th quarter, the Cards made two fast TD's and almost tied the score. End Denny Horr recovered a Bay fumble and a few plays later took a pass from Soder in the end-zone. Sasso converted and made the score 7-14. A few seconds later, halfback Schultz brought the fans to their feet with a 99 yard touchdown run. The extra-point try was blocked. The Blue Dukes scored again on a long pass winning 20-13.

The following week the Blackshirts went to Shorewood, only to be whipped 33-7. Waukesha's only score came on another long run by Schultz. Except for a few instances, Shorewood owned the turf throughout the game.

Waukesha's Revenge

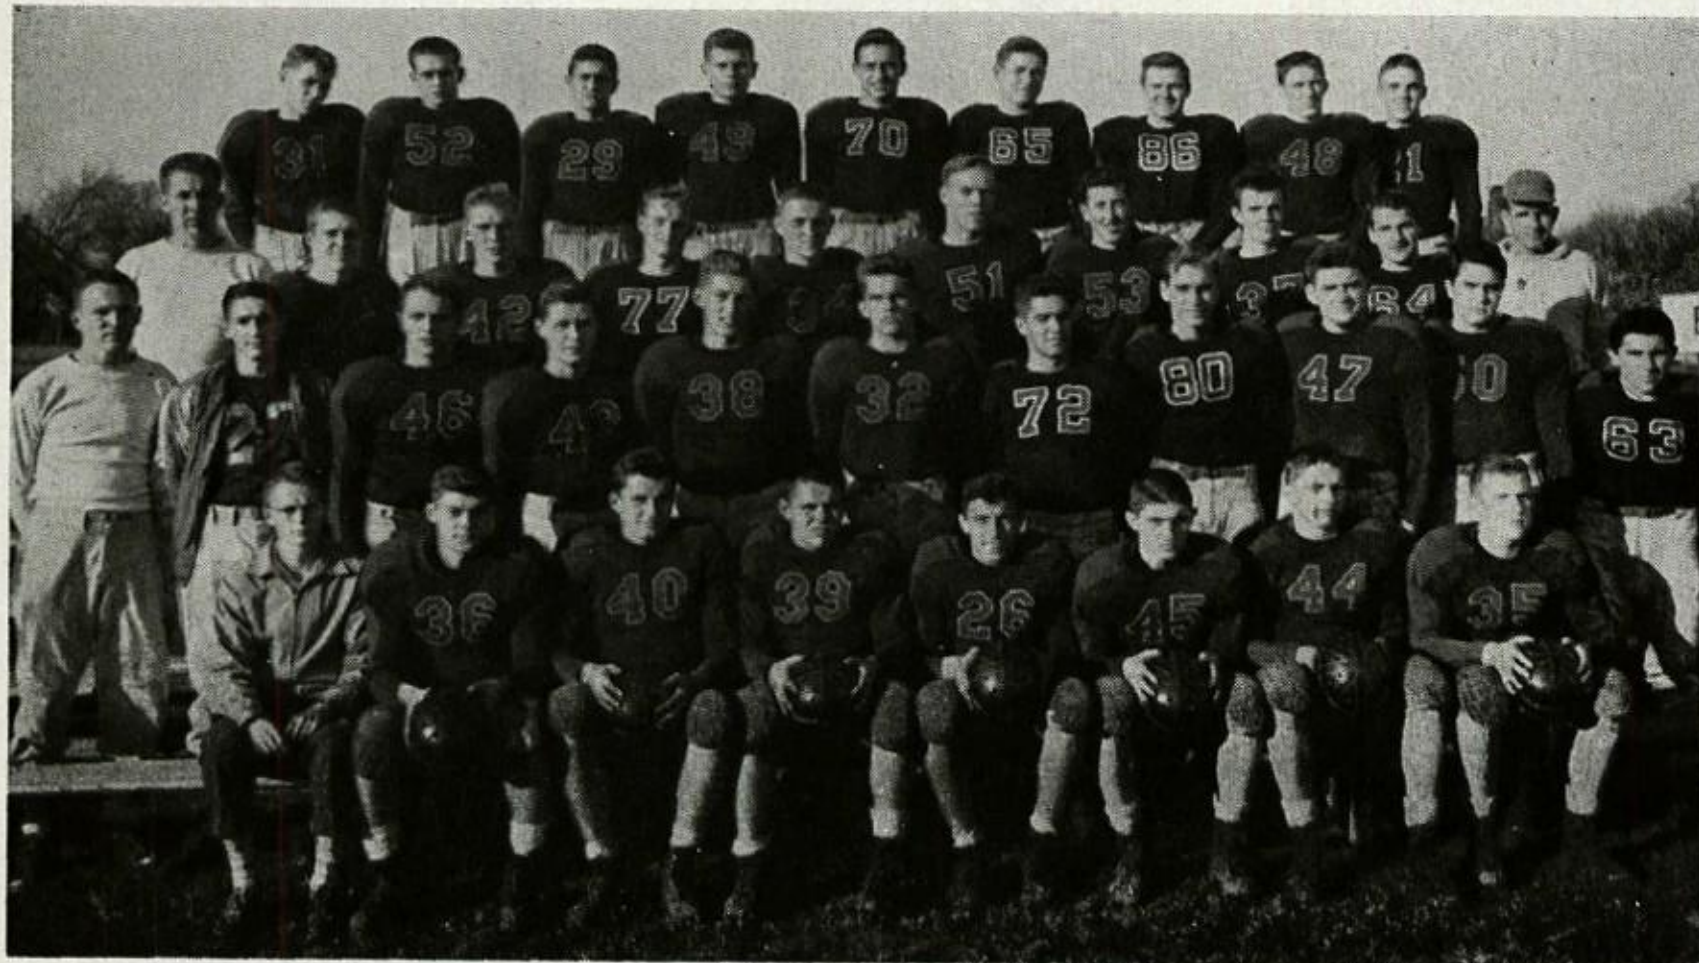

Wauwatosa, quarantined because of polio, cancelled their game the next week. After a week without a game, news came that the Cardinals would renew hostilities with Shorewood in a non-conference game. Revenge flashed in the mind of every Blackshirt, and this time the tables were turned. After a tough battle, the Blackshirts ended at the top of a 14-13 score. Schultz intercepted a pass and galloped 80 yards for a TD. The next Shirt score came after a 75 yard drive. Shorewood followed with a tally but Gronewald blocked the try for the point. Halfback Moss was to be commended on his fine kicking, not only in this game but

The taste of victory remained on Waukesha's lips, for the next week the Blackshirts blasted Nathan Hale, 41-13. The Blackshirt line of Horr, Seybold, Miller, Kadrich, Ruppel, and Goldammer outcharged their opponents and smothered Hale's backs before they started.

Gerry Shesky led his teammates as the Blackshirts defeated West Milwaukee 13-7. Although both Waukesha scores were accounted for by passes, Gerry's hard running sparked the team and picked up valuable yardage as well.

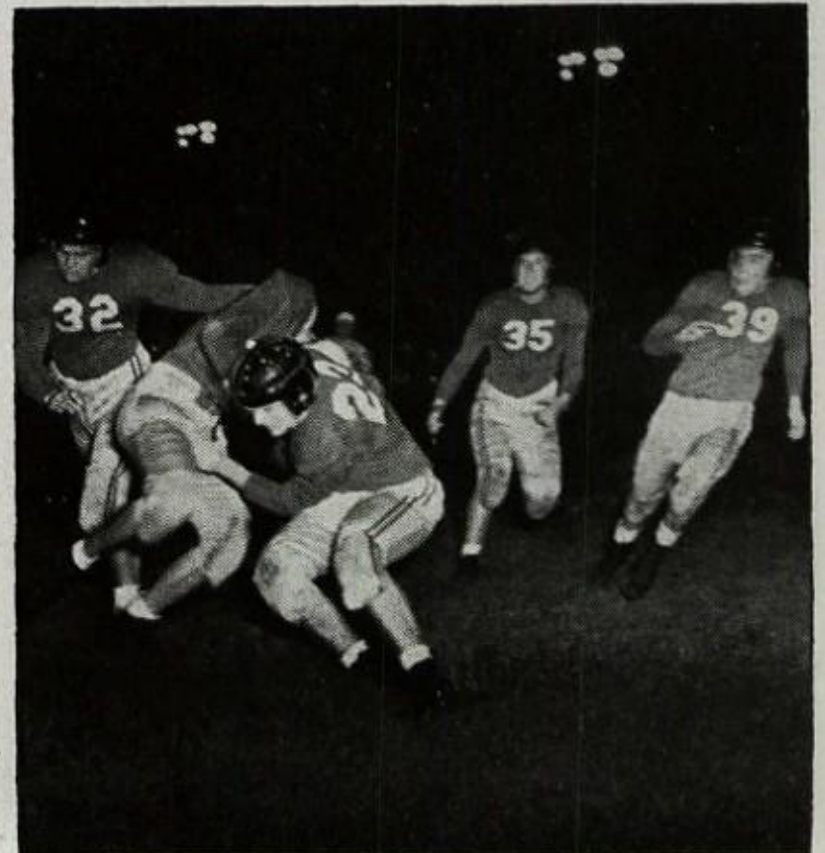

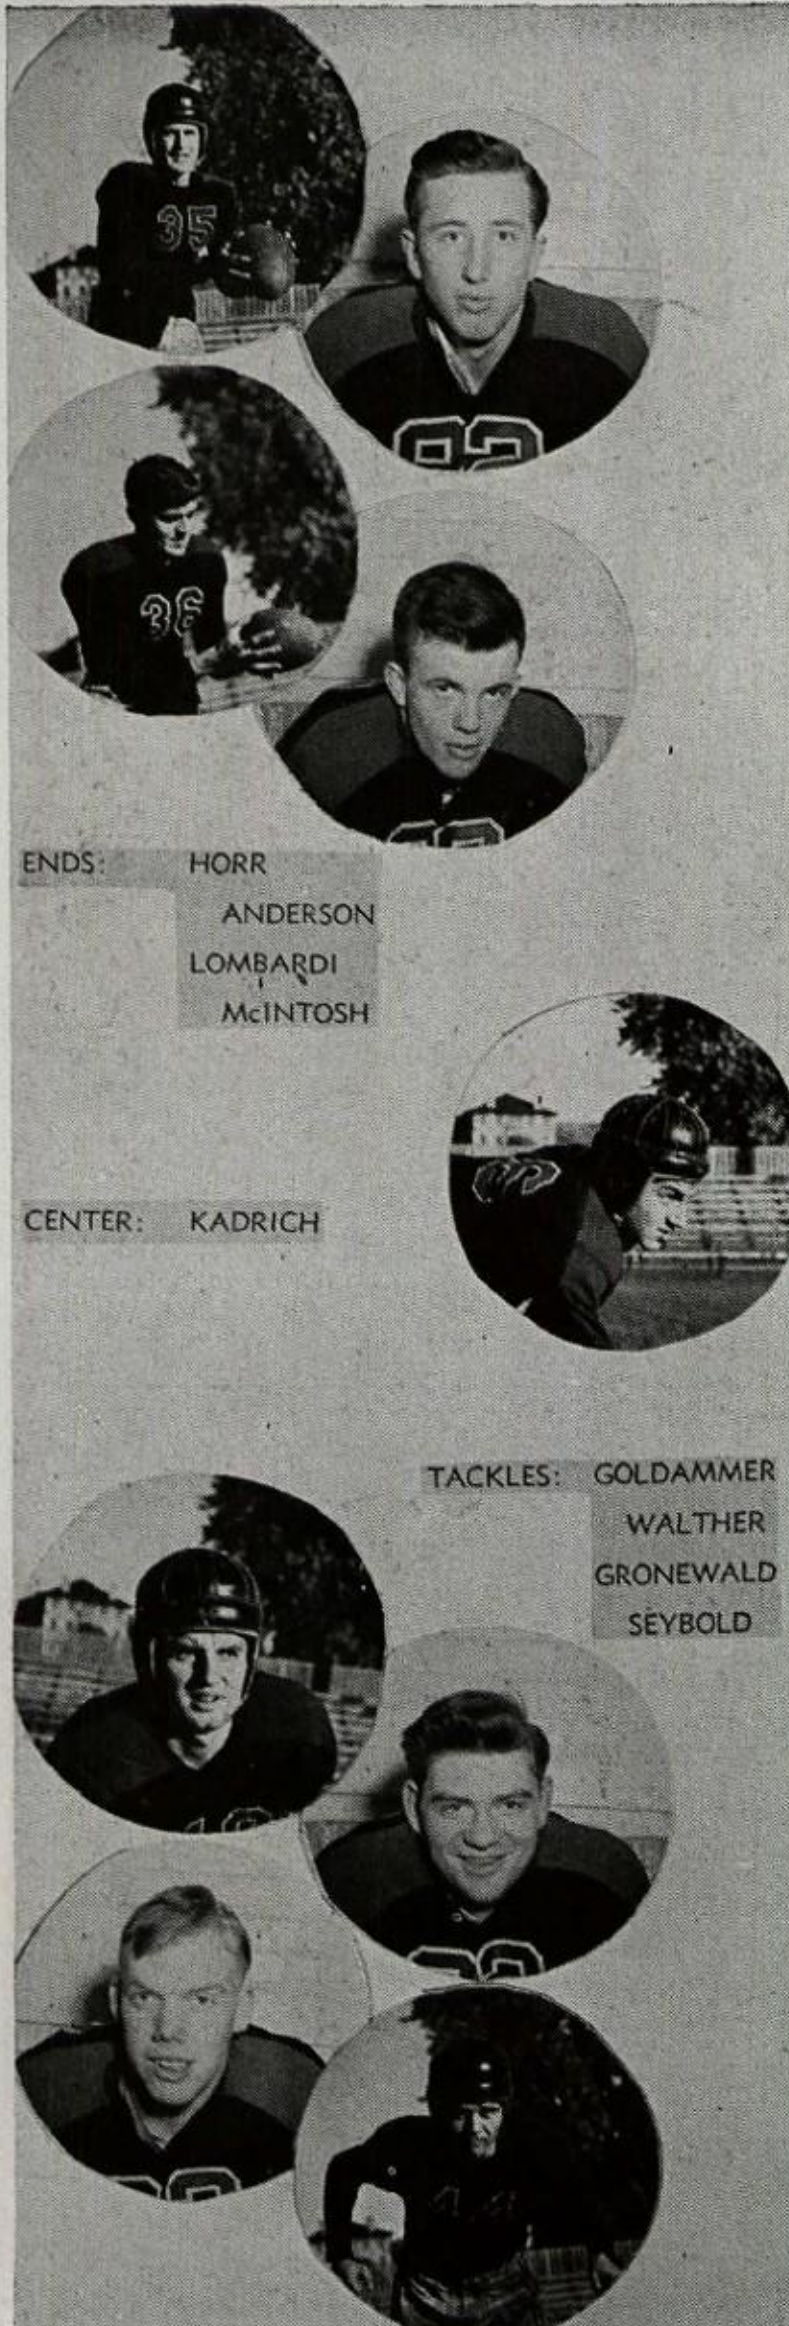

Homecoming and Defeat

Waukesha's homecoming was spoiled by a powerful Tosa team who trounced them 38-6. The team couldn't get started as fumbles, loss of men, and other bad luck held them back.

Waukesha bounced back into the winning column as they overwhelmed South Milwaukee 20-7. Lombardi made the first Shirt score as he toted the ball on an end-around play. A snappy pass play which had worked in previous games from Schultz to Soder accounted for the other two tallies.

Cudahy invaded the Cardinal field the following week with a giant-killing team that had licked both Wauwatosa and Whitefish Bay. They also proved too much for Waukesha as they bowled over the home team for a 38-14 loss. Passes resulted in the Waukesha scores again.

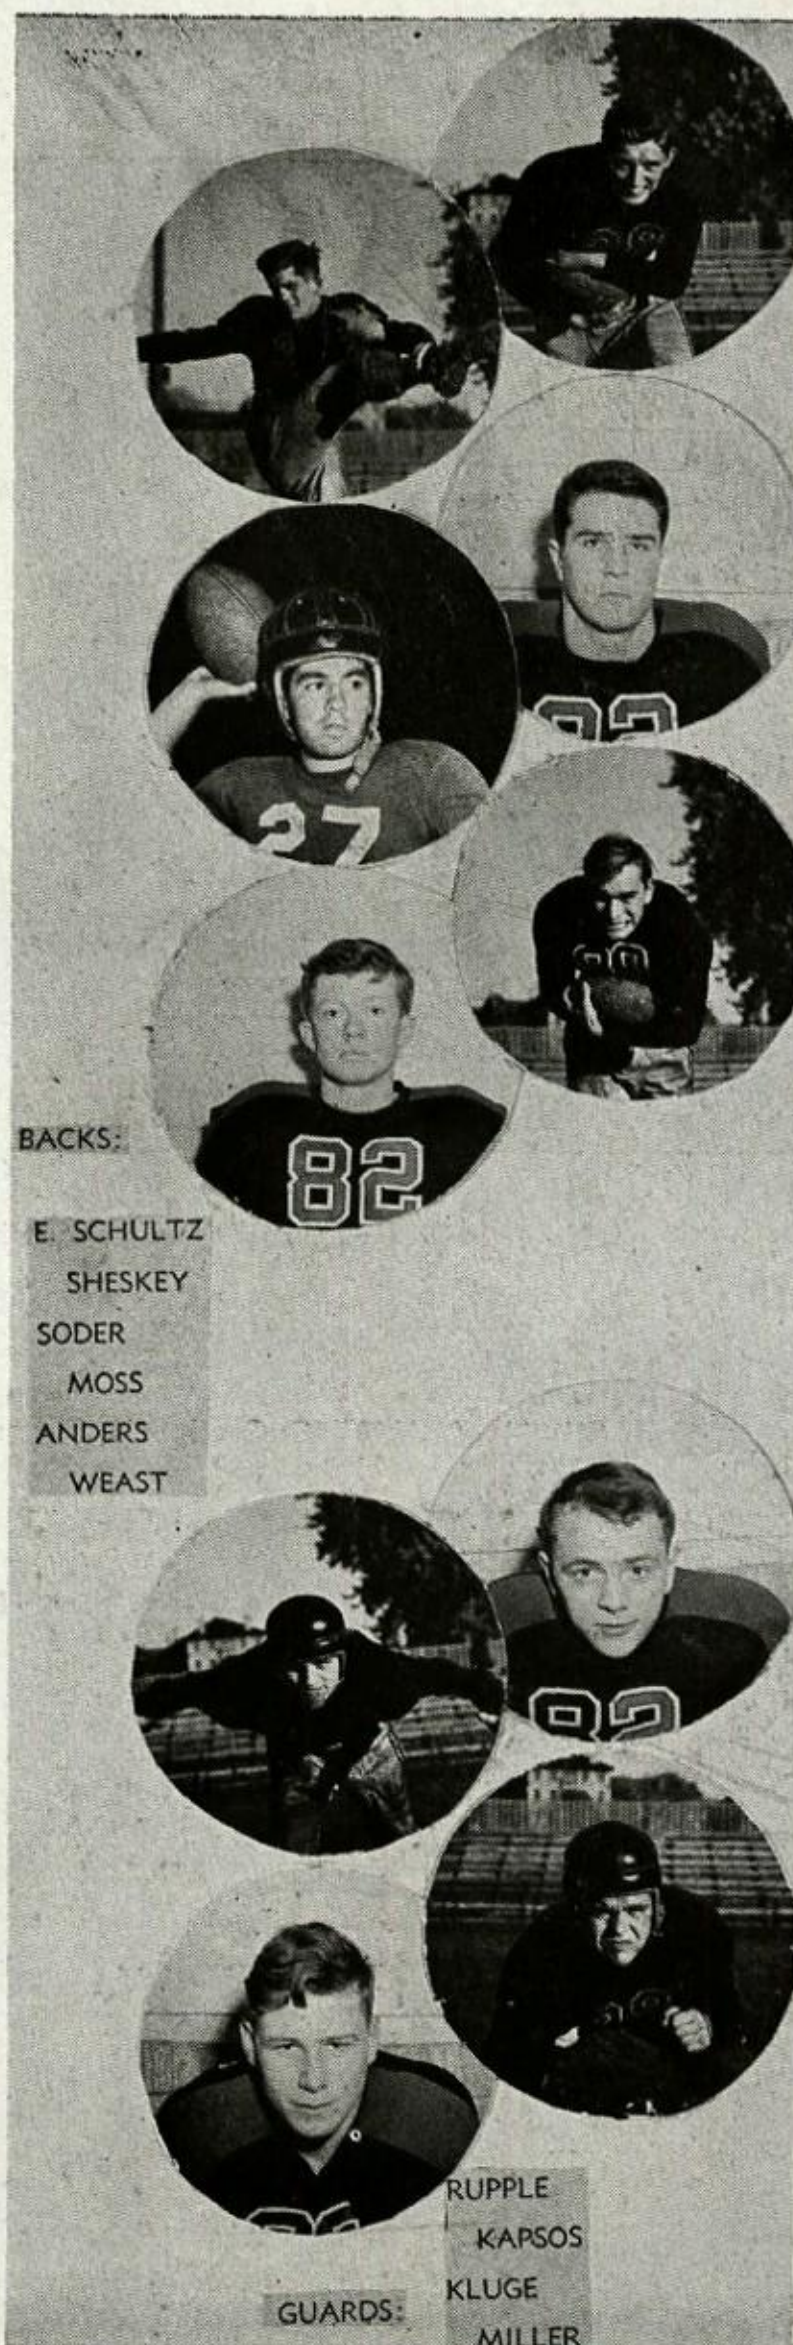

The '49 squad wound up the season by defeating West Allis Central, 28-7. Highlighting the game, halfback Weast celebrated his return to the active list with a 53 yard run to pay dirt.

Awarded Letters

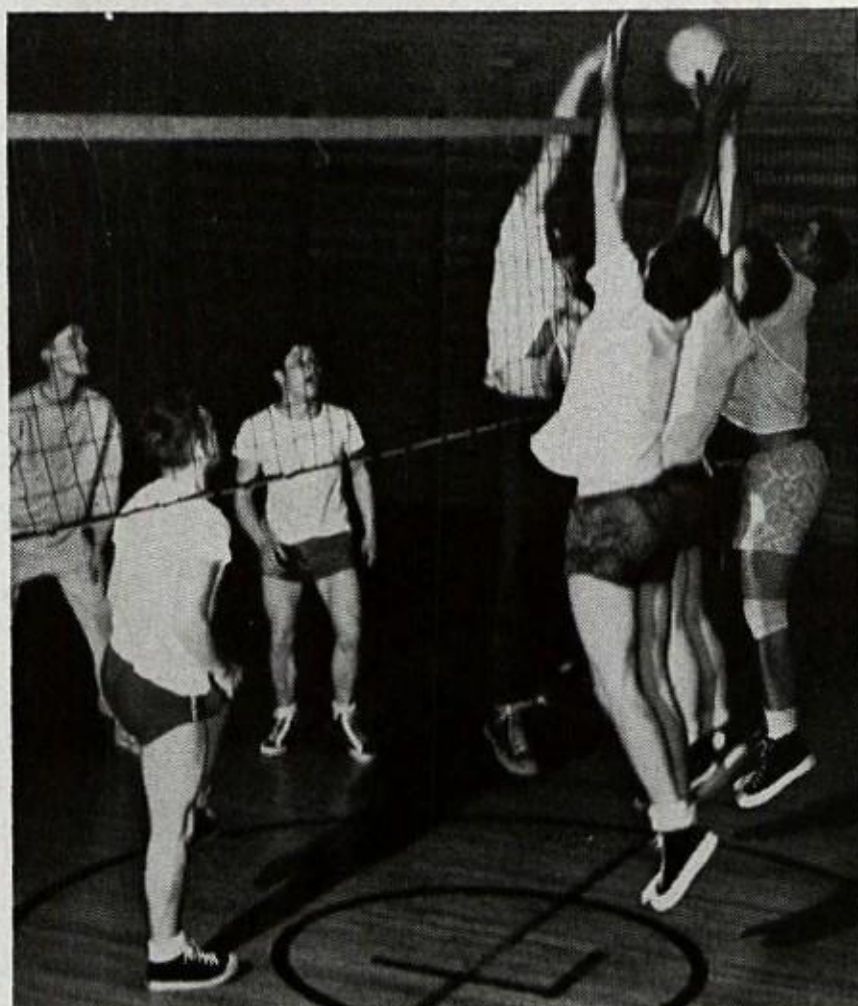

The Blackshirts stood in 4th place as the gridsters hung up their uniforms for the last time. The team elected Horr and Shesky as the honorary co-captains. Including these two, letters were awarded to Kadrich, Miller, Ruppel, Kapsos, Seybold, Kluge, Goldhammer, Walthers, Gronewold, Lombardi, McIntosh, Anderson, Schultz, Soder, Moss, Weast, and Anders.

VOLLEYBALL SEASON 1949

They did it again! The 1949 net-men "SOHR-ED" to another Suburban championship! This makes the record of championships for Waukesha's coach, Roger Sohr, rise to an even 20 with three ties in 24 years of competition. The round-robin type schedule, used for the first time last year, gave the top four teams the chance to fight for the title last April. Waukesha took a quick lead by overcoming Bay's aggregation, 15-8, 15-8, and 15-10. The Shirts marched on and took two games from a tough Tosa squad, but lost the third in a tight 12-15 contest. In the last series of the tournament, the aggressive Blackshirts tore into the West Milwaukee team and capped the season with three solid victories, 15-7, 15-7, 15-1, and another Suburban title.

SWIMMING 1950

The 1950 swimming season was filled with many thrills and many great individual, as well as team performances. The team had a win-loss record of 7-3 with the high point of the season being the 42-41 scare thrown into unbeaten Tosa.

Outstanding individuals were record-breaking breastroker, Horwitz; state backstroke champion, Gilham; freestylers Chapman, who was second in the State; and Williams who was third. Much credit is due Stiede, Suburban diving champion, and Kapsos who was never far behind. Cook, Nader, Kluge, Barney and Haessig were mainstays who gave the team balance.

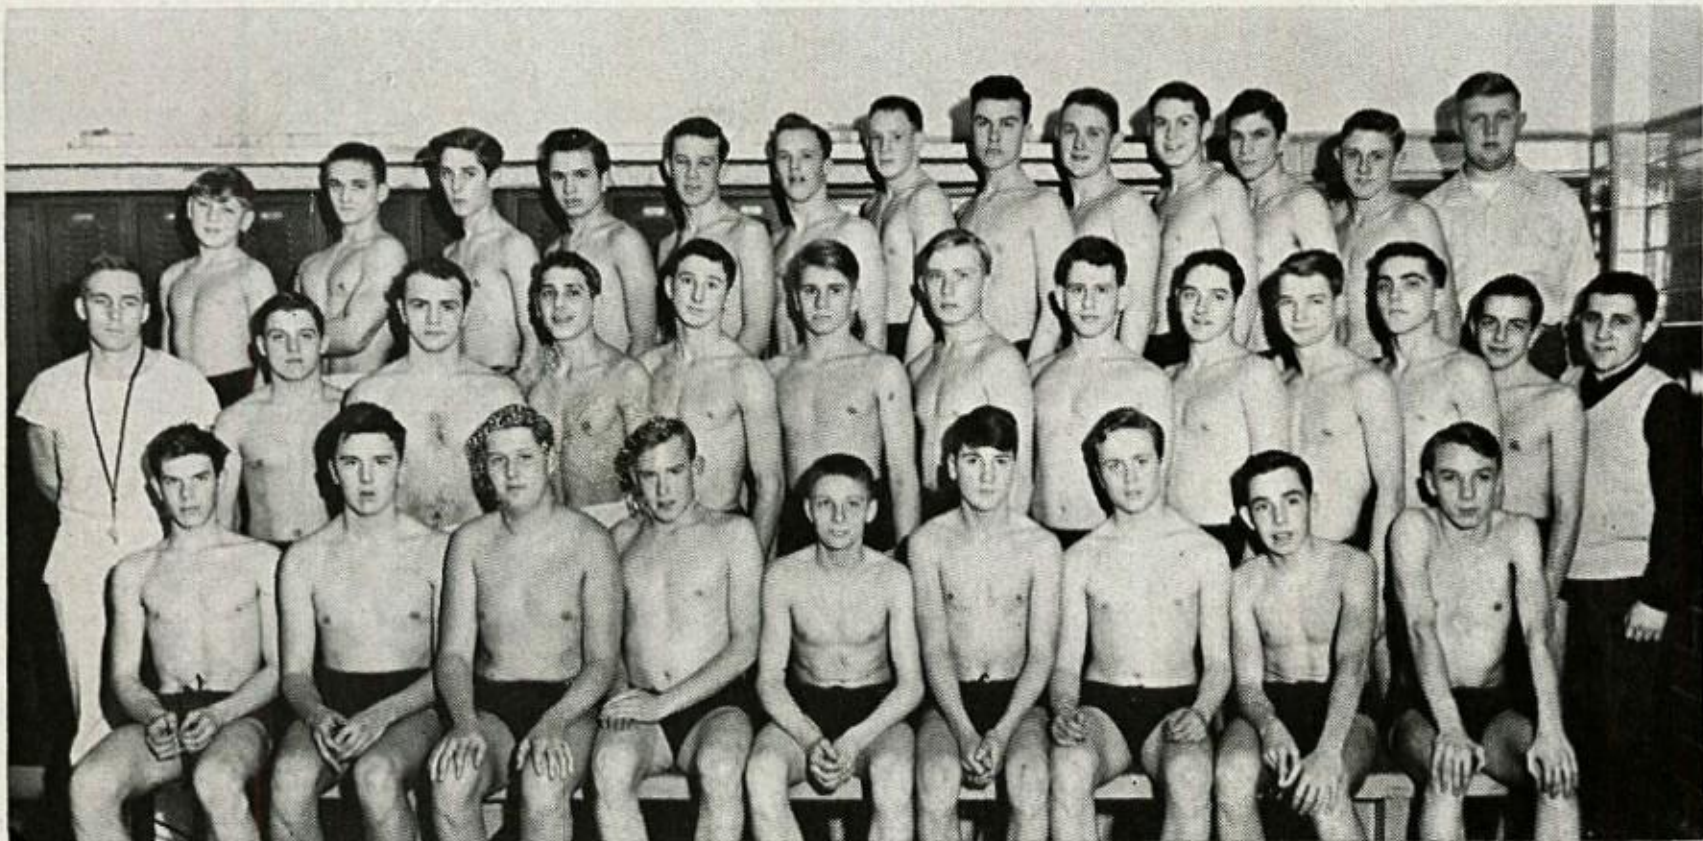

In the State Meet Chapman, Ferguson, Barney, and Williams swam to perfection to set a new school record of 1:45.3 for the 200 yard relay. The team was third in the Cardinal Relays, second in the Suburban and third in the State Championships to close the season with a fine record.

In basketball, more than in many sports, the final outcome of the game can never be taken for granted. The game is too fast-moving, and can change in seconds. The customary opener with Janesville was the first of a long series of "thrillers" to illustrate this principle. After a close, hard fought game, Manning of Janesville sank a disappointing free throw and Janesville won in the final seconds, 35-34.

Blackshirts Take "Opener"

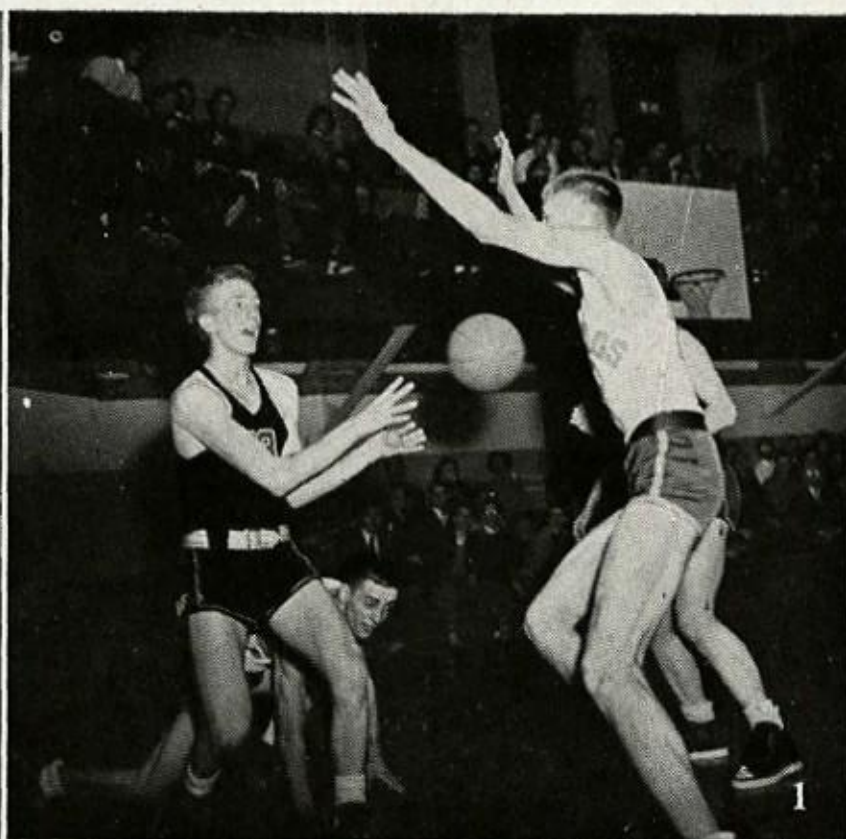

Working hard to "drive in there" (as Coach Saubert phrases it) for the conference opener against South Milwaukee, the Waukesha Quintet was able to rout the visitors, 38-34.

It's said that "all good things must come to an end," and basketball is no exception.

A Cardinal Victory—They Wish!

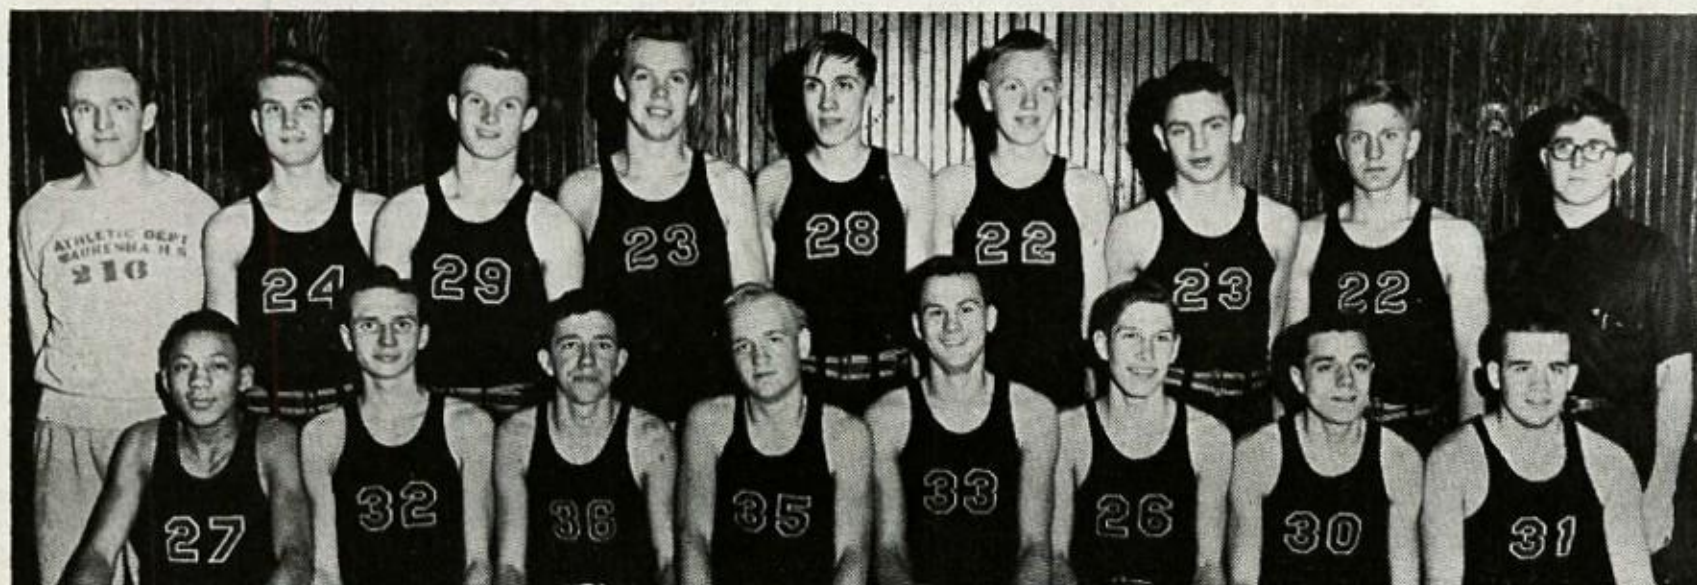

Waukesha suffered its first conference loss from Nathan Hale, 30-37. Schulze was high-scorer, but despite excellent ball handling by him and others, the basketball players failed to score on a generous number of charity shots in the last quarter.

One-up in conference standings, the hoopsters traveled to West Milwaukee. It was "Ernie's Night" as Schaefer made 18 of 32 points. Unable to overcome an early Mustang lead, however, the Shirts were swamped 41-32.

Failure to control rebounds spelled catastrophe for the bounding Blackshirts when the W. A. Central Bulldogs growled to a 48-34 victory. Long one-handed push-shots by Schaefer from mid-floor were the highlights of the game.

Shirts Upset Point, 38-36

The Shirts remained home this Xmas, while the Valley teams visited. In one of the best played games of the season, the Waukesha five handed an unwilling Stevens Point five its first defeat of the season. Saubert's boys played some of their best aggressive ball of the season, connecting at all points to win, 38-36, in a thrilling finale. The not-so-cold Northerners would not be denied, for Point's unexpected defeat was avenged by their Northern neighbors, Wisconsin Rapids, the following night. Playing an even game, the Rapids' tipsters maintained an early lead to win, 48-32, despite spirited ball-handling Lombardi and Helker.

Entertaining undefeated Wauwatosa, the Cards played ball comparable to the Point game. Tosa ended the opening tussling with a push shot, and from then on it was anybody's game. Clinging tenaciously to their slight lead, Tosa rebuffed a final Waukesha drive, and won their 22nd straight game, 32-29.

A half-time lead failed to materialize into a victory in the Whitefish Bay game, due to poor offensive playing in the second half, and the Bays won 34-30. The following night the Shirts were outclassed by a scrappy Shorewood team, 43-37.

Cards Split Two With Don Bosco

In two non-conference games, the willing Cards tangled with Don Bosco of the Milwaukee Catholic Conference. In the first game the score throughout was as undecided as a ping-pong ball in play, but the Cards improved their basket average in the second half and nicked the Dons 38-36. The next game, on the Dons' floor, was not so fortunate for the boys in black. Bosco came up with a victory drive in the final minutes, evening the series with Waukesha, 37-35.

At Own Risk

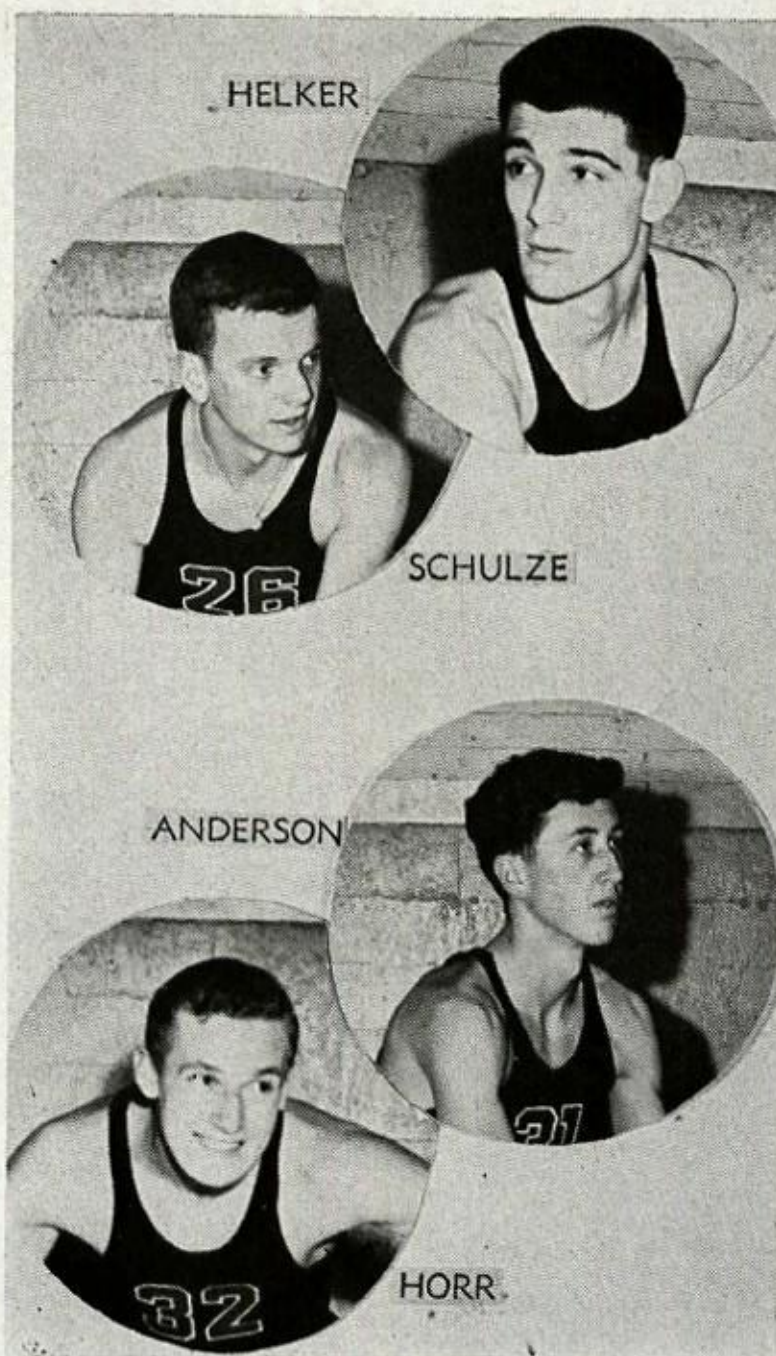

Locals Draw Three Straight Wins

The Waukesha cagers staved off the Packers of Cudahy in an overtime game, 29-27. Trailing throughout the fourth quarter, a side-shot by Schaefer forced the game into overtime, and Schulze tipped the winning basket. The hard fighting cagers, aided by several long shots in the final seconds, smothered South Milwaukee, 44-37, extending their miniature winning streak. Playing ball similar to the So. Milwaukee game, the team latched on to the ball at every opportunity and made most drives pay off, winning from frustrated Hale, 39-31. Some players exhibited better playing form than they had previously in the season. Part of the spark might have been kindled in a pep rally (the first in years for basketball), but if it was, the temperature dropped the following night when West Milwaukee slaughtered the cagers, 43-21. Anderson and Horr were the only bright spots in the dismal scene, and they were overwhelmed by the Mustangs.

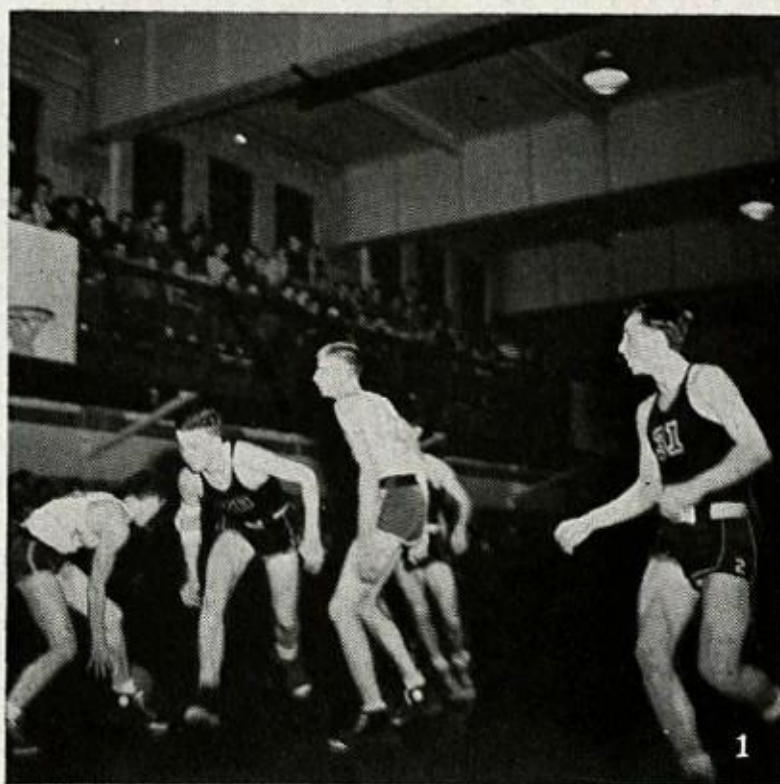

Shirts Down Central in Last Conference Tilt

In another overtime game, the final conference game of the season, the Fighting Five dumped in 44 points to 43 mustered by West Allis Central. Closely pressed throughout, the quintet looked best in the final quarter, and just barely outclassed the Bulldogs. The tally sheet showed five wins and seven losses in the conference games.

In the first game for the sub-regional honors, the local fast-firing-five found the Port Washington Pirates easy prey and trounced them 59-23. In the ill-fated Shorewood game, the bucketmen saw their hopes disintegrate in the final minutes, and the Greyhound team clinch a trip to the finals, 33-30.

CROSS COUNTRY 1949

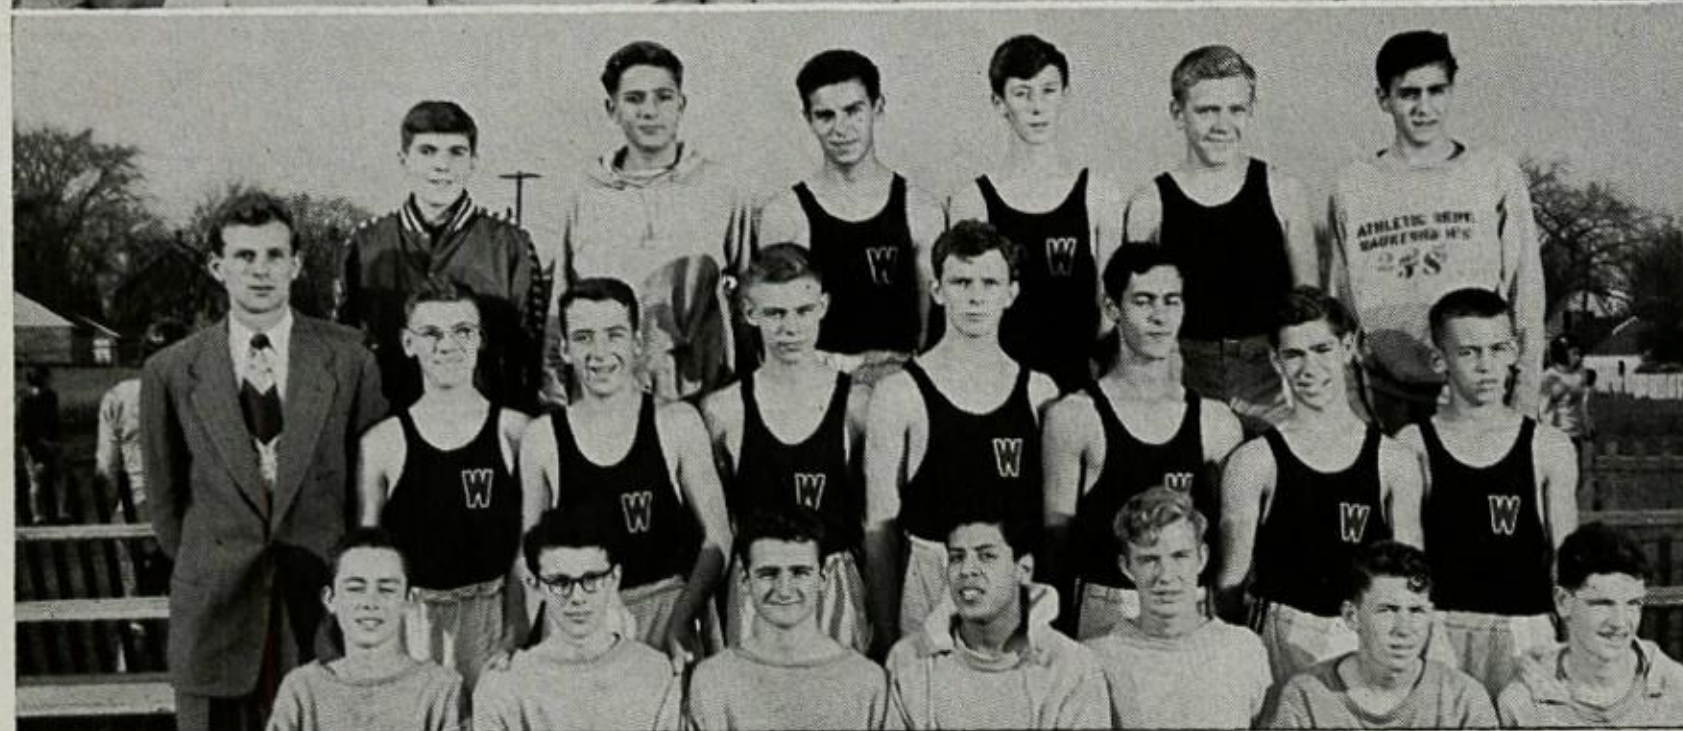

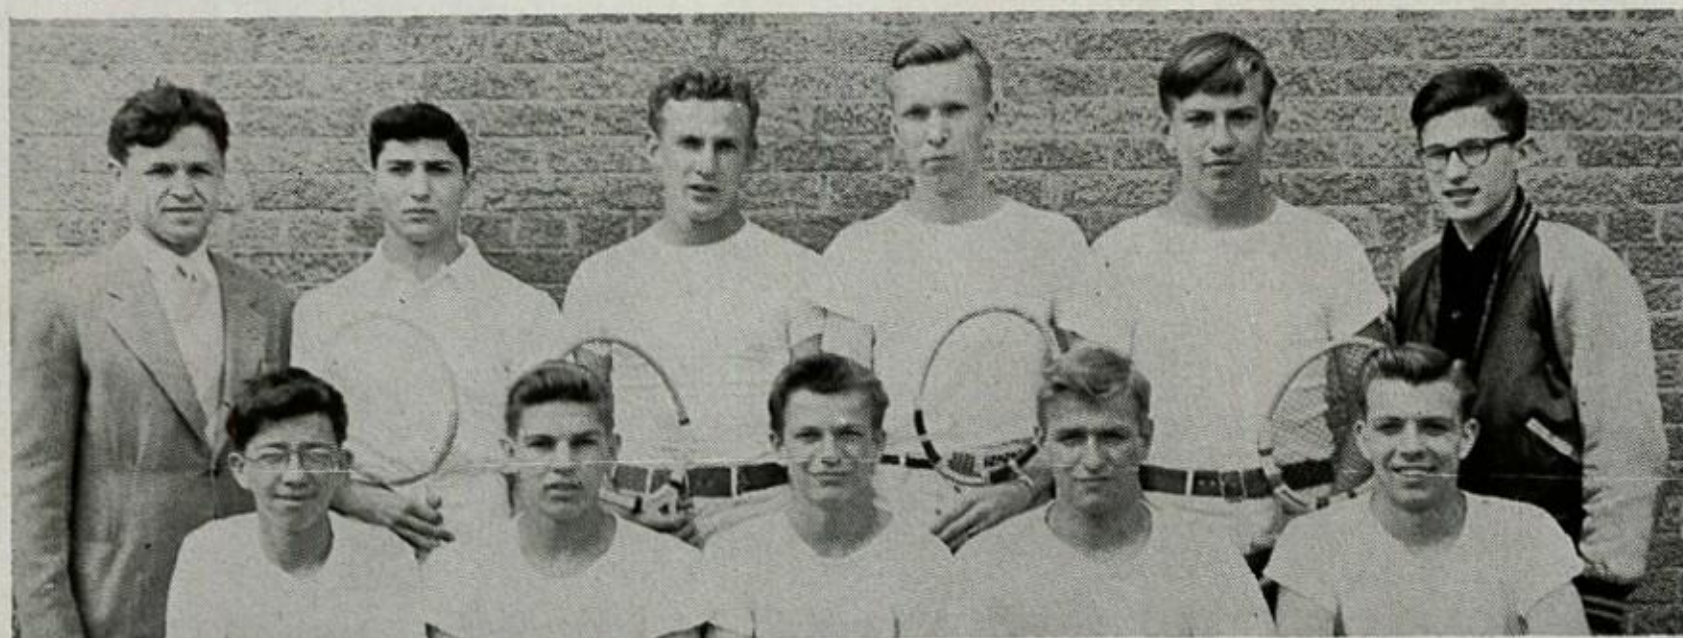

To the boys on Coach Russ Coley's cross-country team, the sport of distance-running is the toughest athletic test available. It requires great endurance and an iron will. The local runners showed enough of both to do well in the early season, defeating South Milwaukee and West Allis Central on September 23 when Shane was high man; again defeating West Allis on September 30 when Davis won; and winning over Whitefish Bay and West Allis on October 7 when Barkley outdistanced the field. However, with the meet against South Milwaukee on October 11, which Waukesha lost, the local harriers entered a reverse tide which carried them through the season. Malone led the Blackshirts at the Janesville meet on October 22, and again on November 5 when Coley's marathon men took 10th place in the State Meet. Waukesha placed 4th in the Suburban Meet on October 29th, with Malone still first man on the team. Shane, Davis, Barkley, Malone, Chronis, and Lederer were the letter winners.

TENNIS 1949

The 1949 Suburban Tennis Championship was captured by Waukesha's netmen under the effective coaching of Mr. Friese. Getting off to a slow start, the Blackshirts toppled first-place Whitefish Bay in a mid-season meet and took over the lead. The only close meet was the clash with Tosa's squad on April 27th, when the Cards defeated the Red Raiders by a narrow 3-2 margin. The singles squad was composed of Rucci, Bliese, and Jamieson, while the doubles teams were Tenpenny and Orlopp, and Schultz and Schaller.

GOLF 1949

In Waukesha's B.A.A. golf tournament, Schaefer, Heckler, Kaufman, Pals, and Soder were selected to represent the Blackshirts in the Suburban Conference Golf Meet in May. Working without an official coach, the quintet fell short of the championship, but Waukesha's Ernie Schaefer copped individual honors, taking third place. Schaefer was also runner-up in the title for State Amateur Golfers' Championship, losing by one down to Campbell of Madison.

Thinclads Come Out With Spring

TRACK 1949

Waukesha's thinclads, under the experienced hand of Coach Bob Campbell, were gunning for the Suburban Championship all the way, but were literally one step behind Wauwatosa's Red Raiders from the starting gun to the tape. The dual meet with Tosa on April 23 began the pattern, when the Blackshirts were defeated, 59½-44½. On May 7, at the "Big Eight" practice meet, Wauwatosa earned 78¼ points, while Waukesha placed second with 62.

Blackshirts Outscore Blue Dukes

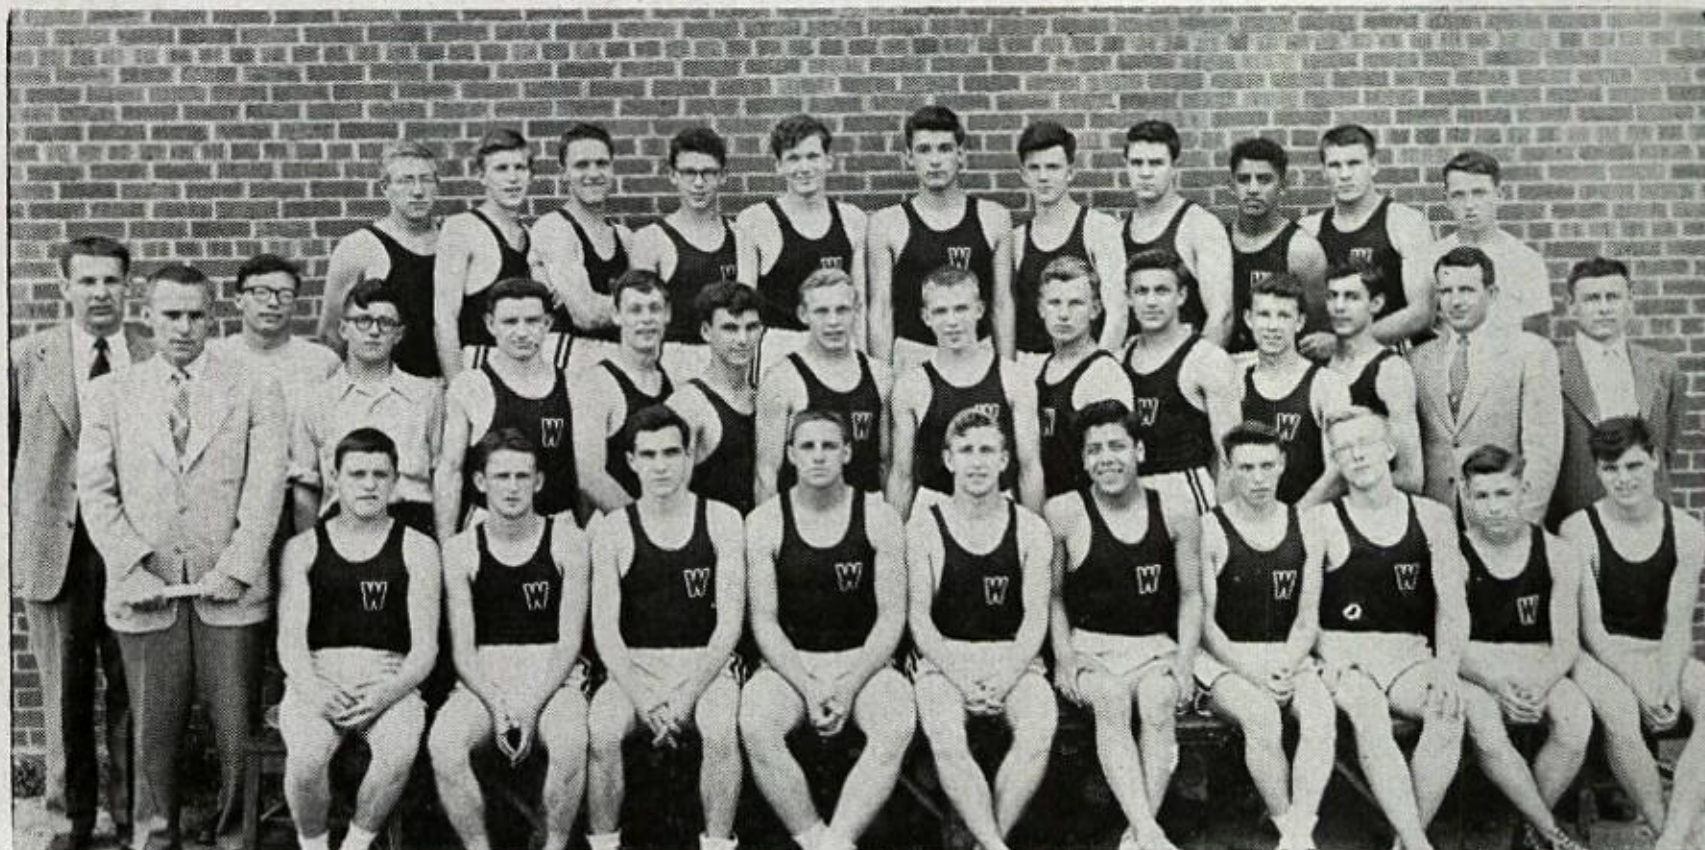

At the Suburban Relays on May 14, the Cardinal team won 61 points, again being topped by the Red Raiders' 74 points. The local cindermen, however, did stage an upset by outrunning Whitefish Bay who scored 57½ points. The trend of runnerup was completed at the Suburban Meet on June 4, when the Blackshirts tallied 39 points to Tosa's 67.

Individual Honors

Pete Curran took top individual honors in the Suburban Meet through his victories in the low hurdles, broad jump, and dashes.

Kanters consistently placed high, taking firsts through the season in the half-mile, 440, and the broad jump. Kadrich and Letson ranked high in the shot-put. Letson showed his ability in the Suburban Relays when he out-distanced the highly regarded Matra of Whitefish Bay. Basse showed potential strength in the hurdles, and Freshmen Shane and Malone showed great promise in the distance events. Last year's letter-winners were: Curran, low hurdles; Basse, high hurdles; Taylor, high hurdles; Buckley, dashes; Hall, dashes; Gomez, 440; Kanters, 440 and 880; Pals, 880; Shane, 880; Davis, 880; Hoppe, mile; Barthoff, mile; Carlson, mile; G. B.A.A. Better All-round Athletes

SENIOR B. A. A.

The 1950 "edition" of the Boys' Athletic Association, having Mr. Hal Corrigan as its "editor", started off with the fall sport of football. The manager of the league was Ken Jones. Michigan State, led by Ken Jones, captured the league trophy by winning five out of five.

Golf was played at the Moor Baths under the direction of Ernie Schaefer. About twenty boys participated in the sport.

Basketball, under the management of Bill Zickau, next took the spot-light, with twelve teams forming two leagues. Sixty games were held in the Senior and Vocational School gyms. The Seniors and the Sophomore "A" won titles in their respective leagues. In the play-off the Seniors toppled the Sophomores. At the end of the season a free throw tournament was held. Carl Schweder, a freshman, took first place with twenty-one of twenty-five tosses.

Other sports held during the year were swimming, tennis, and softball.

The Messrs. Helm, Friese and Chase assisted Mr. Corrigan supervise the sports. The board for 1950 was Ernie Schaefer, president; Don Nettesheim, vice-president;

Glenn Oak, secretary; and Gary Lawrence, treasurer.

JUNIOR B. A. A.

The Junior B.A.A. under the direction of Mr. Francis Pitchotta and Mr. John Lehocky had one of its most successful years since the war.

Touch football was played by the major and minor leagues of the seventh and eighth grade boys.

Hand soccer, a game too strenuous for the senior boys, was played with success and floor burns by the agile boys of the Junior High.

The basketball season got rolling late in November and lasted until late February when basketball tournaments for both leagues were held.

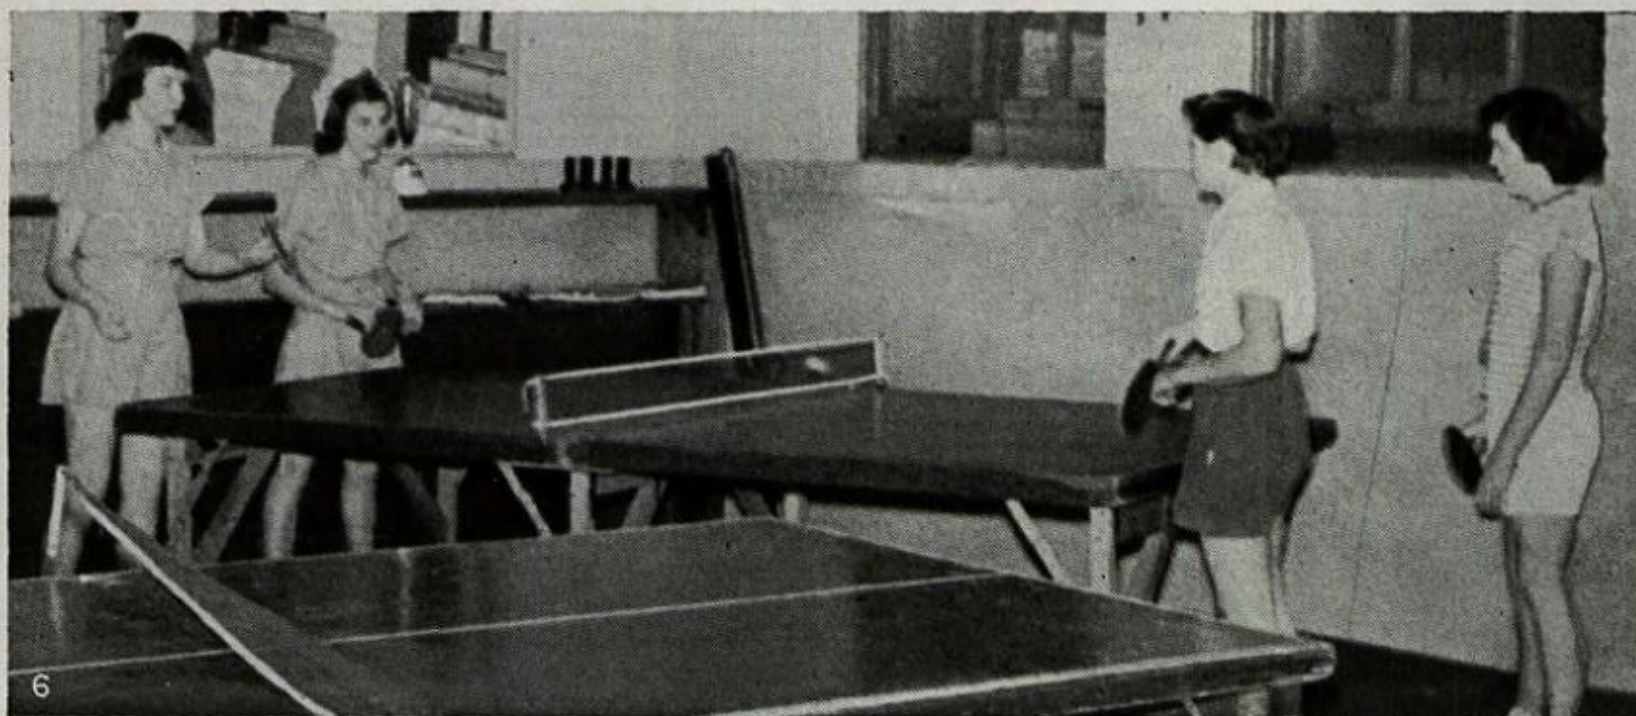

Many of Coach Campbell's future "finsters" had their chance to get into competition during the third annual junior swimming meet.

Softball and track were scheduled for the spring months, and ended the program for the future Blackshirts.

Cute Figures Show Fine Form

SENIOR G. A. A.

A sprained ankle, the shouts of a winning team, the sentiment of the banquet, all these are part of G.A.A.

Misses Dodge and Sears guided Edythe Davies in directing the Board. Other efficient officers were Norma Zimmerman, Joan Normington, and Janet Grout. For modern Dianas, archery was organized by Gaynor Erdman. Following this there was swimming, with Nancy Egan persuading girls into entering the meets. Volleyball was a big job for little Kitty Harder, but she handled it ably, and the season closed with championship games and a spread. Under Vivian Litt's direction, competition in two basketball leagues proved exciting. Again, all-star games and a spread made a fitting climax. A breather from team sports, the ping pong tournament headed by Marilyn Moore gained in suspense as the finals were neared. With the advent of spring, the girls needed little coaxing to be outdoors, and so baseball under Shirley Curtis was a popular sport. Tennis and badminton, headed by Nancy Gagan and Mary Jo Collins, were no "rackets," but brought out individual competition.

The high point of the year was of course the banquet. Amid a hushed reverence, the silver cup was awarded to the winning team, and hard-earned W's given to lucky "GAALS."

JUNIOR G. A. A.

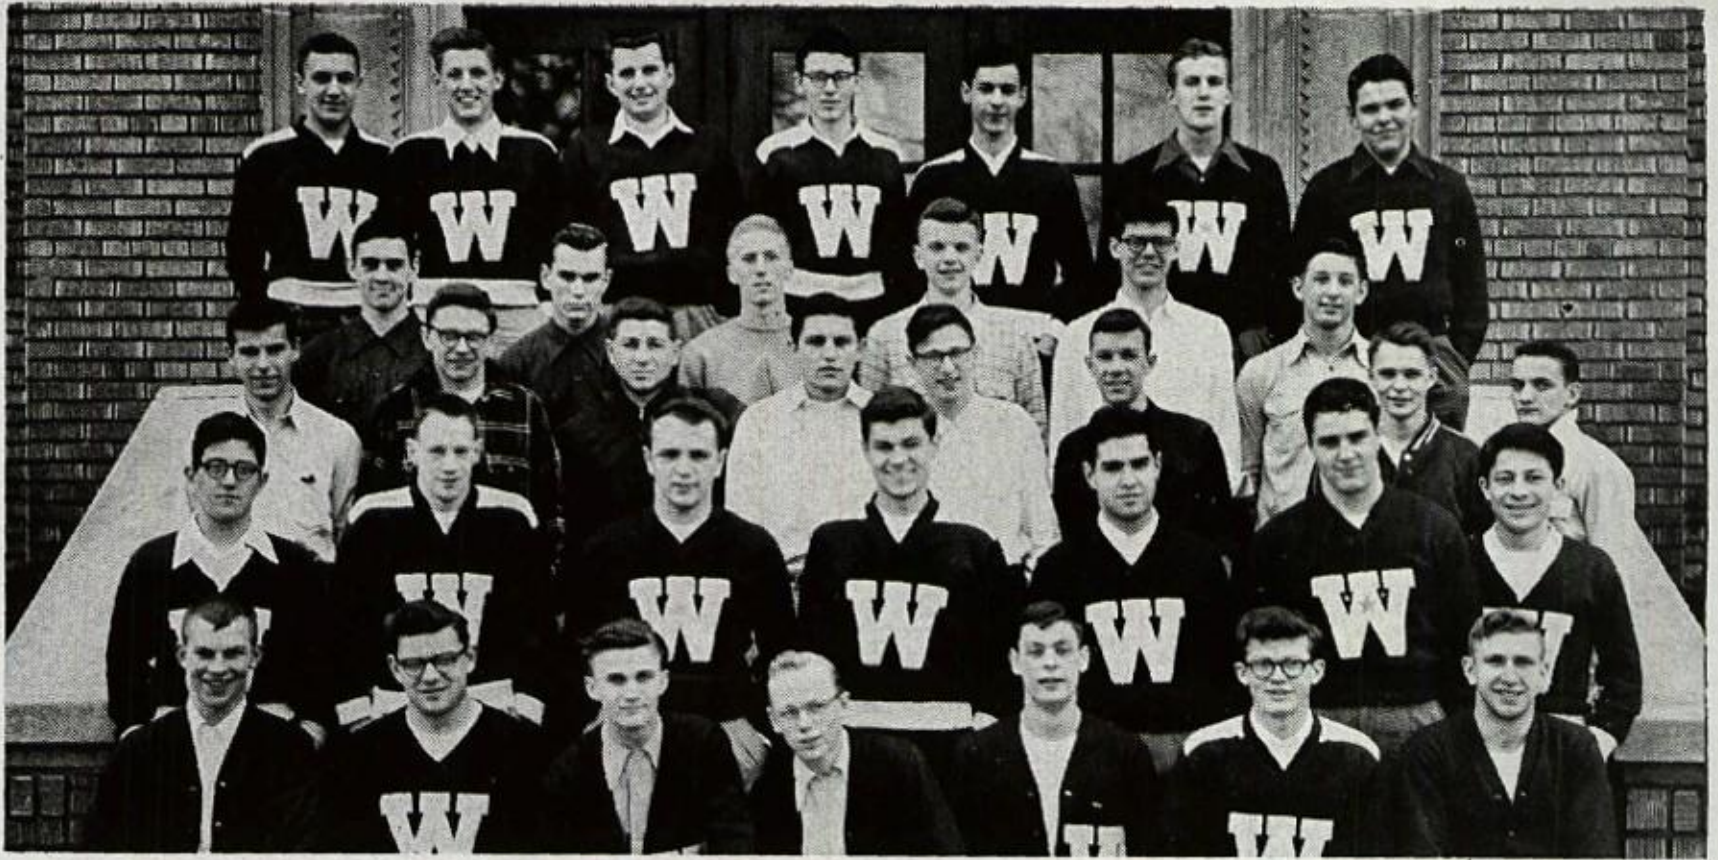

Whatever the Junior G.A.A. girls may lack in polish, they make up for in spirit and enthusiasm. Miss Amundson directed the board, which included Betsy Kramer, Rita Johnson, Judy Christoph, and Emily Arreazola. The sports were batball, volleyball, baseball, side-line basketball, and kick-pin baseball. A Valentine's Day party and another later in the spring completed their activities.

SUBURBAN CONFERENCE RUNS 25 YEARS

As 1949 went past the boards, the Suburban Conference celebrated its twenty-fifth birthday. At its organization in 1924, the conference included football, basketball, track, volleyball, swimming, and skating. Since that time golf and cross country have been added.

The league is now known as one of the toughest in the state. Night football was one of the largest problems that the conference encountered. Wauwatosa incorporated a lighted field in 1930, and Waukesha followed in 1931. Other schools were not in favor of it until public opinion swung them over in 1934. Since then the league has been very successful in the solution of its problems. Waukesha is honored by having one of the three original active members in its midst. This personality is Coach Lee Saubert. Waukesha is also near the top of the championship honors, running second to Shorewood's fifty-three, with fifty-one. A brief run-down shows Waukesha's teams with these championships:

9 Football	20 Volleyball
5 Basketball	8 Skating
5 Track	1 Cross Country
3 Tennis

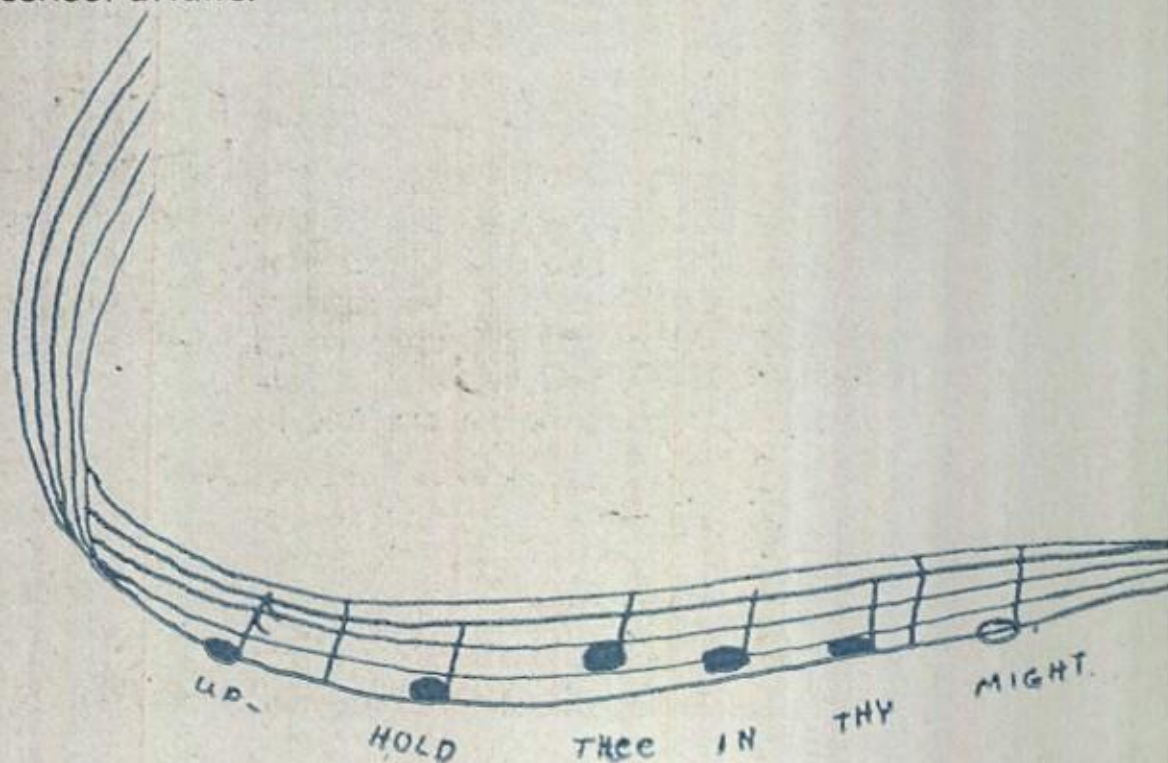

Activities

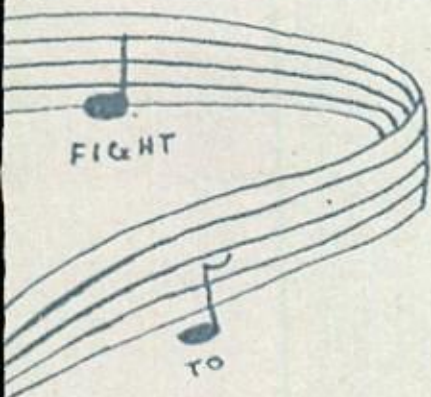

Hundreds of things to do and hundreds of students to do them; that's the activity schedule at Waukesha High. Organizations in which students work with others and at the same time develop specialized skills include vocal and instrumental groups. Photography, creative writing, dramatics and forensics are activities which appeal to fewer students who want to train these talents for possible hobbies.

There are also activities that involve doing things for others. The student council and the commissions spread responsibilities to a large number of people. Other students serve in the "little" places such as movie operators, librarians, and S.C.A. cashiers. That the events of the school year may not go unrecorded, staff workers publish the Meg and the Star.

The reward for all these hours of work is the personal satisfaction in having contributed to the school's achievements. Those who combine this with high scholarship may be elected to the Honor Society. However, many must wait for real recognition until Senior Honors Assembly.

A large part of the spirit of camaraderie that exists in Waukesha High comes from seeing classmates assuming leadership and responsibility in school affairs.

The Date-O-Graph announces the week's activities.

SENIOR HONOR SOCIETY

Any student who becomes a member of National Honor Society can justly be proud. Election to this organization is a fitting climax to any Junior's or Senior's high school career.

If a student keeps an average above ninety and accumulates at least twenty-five honor points from participation in extra-curricular activities, he has a chance to be elected. Candidates are voted upon by members and teachers.

The officers are Marshall Moss, president; Averil Hallstrand, vice president; Jule Brockmann, secretary; and Don Taylor, treasurer.

Members secured and trimmed the traditional Christmas tree in the Senior Building, changed the Date-O-Graph, and decorated the bulletin boards. They prepared the Honor Society Banquet in the Spring, guided by their adviser, Miss Fardy.

JUNIOR HONOR SOCIETY

Seventh, eighth and ninth graders, can become members of Junior Honor Society—the younger brother of the Senior Honor Society.

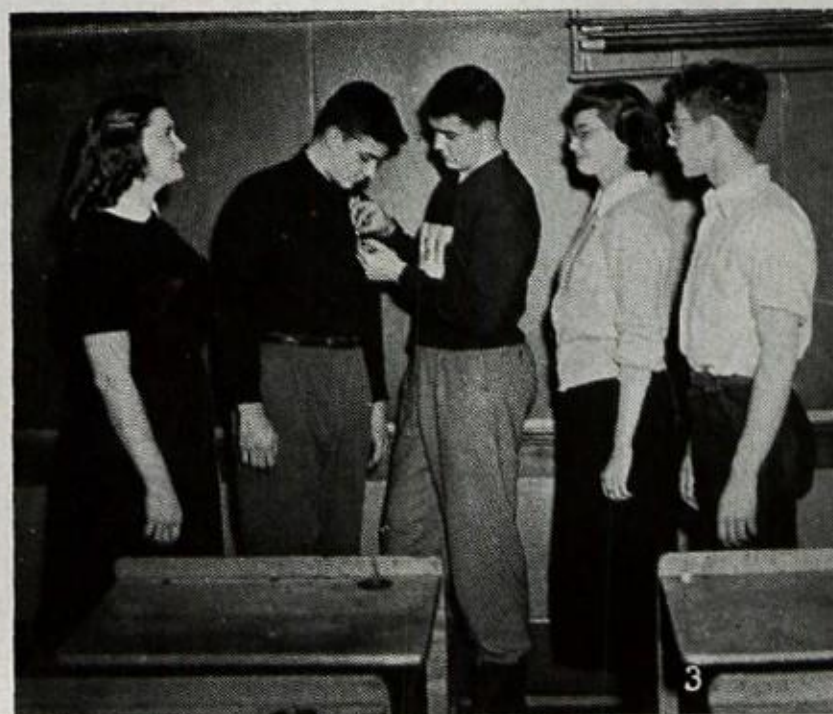

A high average, between A and B, and participation in at least one extra-curricular activity are requisites for membership. A ninth grade student is required to keep this record for two semesters. Others must be eligible for three out of six semesters.

Miss Humphreys presents the emblems to those who have been chosen at assembly programs.

QUILL AND SCROLL

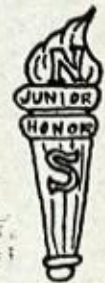

Quill and Scroll is a national club which could be called the Honor Society of Journalism. In Waukesha, the students who are privileged to wear the Quill and Scroll pin are those who have given a year or more of superior service in working on the Cardinal Star or Megaphone.

Laboratory in School Leadership

SENIOR STUDENT COUNCIL

The main governing body in Waukesha High School is the Senior Student Council. The council was formed in 1924 and now there is one representative for every thirty-five students elected by the popular vote in homerooms. This year's officers were president, Duane Rosenheim; vice-president, Art Beringer; secretary, Nancy Pfeil, and treasurer, Mike Curran. Their faculty adviser was Miss Kathryn Nohelty.

Introducing a change in homecoming activities, a daylight parade was held, climaxed by a pep rally at Haertel Field. The Football Hop ended this year's homecoming festivities.

Another innovation for the 1949-50 season was the formation of an usher commission. The exchange of school papers in the suburban conference was developed this year. Through special effort, TWIRP season was held for the first time.

The council works with the students for the general improvement of conditions at Waukesha High School.

JUNIOR STUDENT COUNCIL

The Junior Student Council, composed of students from the seventh through ninth grades, meets to form the policies and rules regarding the conduct of the junior high students.

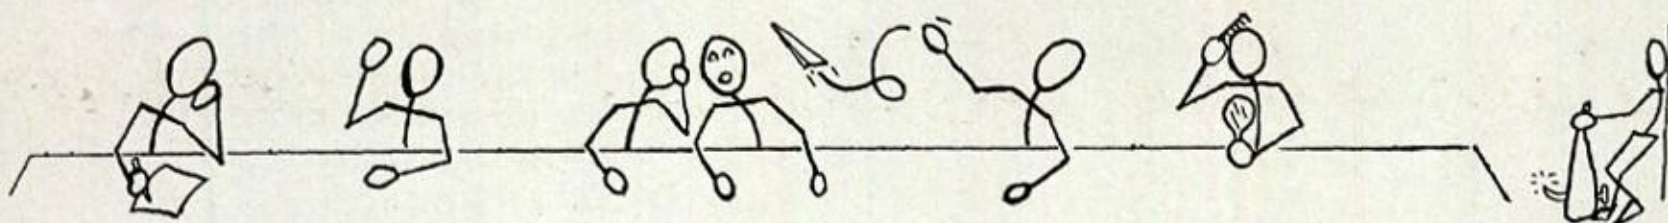

This year the council bought new flags for their homerooms. The Christmas trees for both the Lincoln and Edison buildings were bought and decorated by them. A special campaign for donations for CARE packages was made under the leadership of Miss Hanson and Miss Bray, the advisers. Magazine subscriptions for the Wisconsin School for Boys were another major project.

Regular care of the Lincoln and Edison book stores and Lost and Found booths are under the council's jurisdiction.

Dick Normington presided as president at this year's sessions. Dick Schwartz was first vice-president; Betsy Kramer was second vice-president, and Judy Christoph held the office of secretary-treasurer.

COMMISSIONS

The students who attend Waukesha High School, plan and direct their own activities. Co-operating with the Student Council, the Guidance Commission plans Senior Career Night and Orientation Day. The C-4 Commission urges the students to practice "Courtesy Around the Clock." The members maintain bulletin boards to stress good manners. The Pep Commission presents numerous pep rallies during the athletic season.

Working independently the Rec. Dance and Social Commission, which is the largest group, plans the various weekend dances and the Football Hop. The members have various duties to perform at these dances and have shown that they can accept this responsibility. To present assemblies to the various grades is the obligation of the Assembly Commissions. The students have proven that they can accept the responsibility for planning and carrying out projects.

The Year in Print and Picture

CARDINAL STAR — MANAGERS:
Hagen, Twist, Houston, Rutte, Horwitz.

CARDINAL STAR

This year's Cardinal Star featured two new additions. More pictures of organizations and individuals were printed and Mr. Cohn, adviser, arranged to take advertising from local stores, written especially to interest high schoolers.

The familiar One small Voice on the first page was that of Irene Morgan, editor-in-chief. Also front page material, under Carol Moore's direction, was the most important news of the day. Joanie Normington and Ed Stites, arranged the "Stardust" column and the editorials. The high school society section and Junior High Notes on page three were recorded by Judy Tradewell and Barb McKinnon. Last of all came the Sports on page four. "Ern and Sherm" were no other than Ernie Schaefer and Sherman Olson, who reported on athletic events.

MEGAPHONE

"Anyone who enjoys work can have a good time here," reads a sign on the Meg bulletin board. So it was—regular after school work sessions that often lasted and lasted. Staff members put a great deal of thought and elbow grease (plus a few cokes!) into the copy they turned in to their section editors, Donna Frankie, Averil Hallstrand, Marshall Moss and Ruth Thiel. After it had been rewritten and rewritten again, copy and plans went to Sally Stine, editor. Mary Alice Green was busy with the art staff while Roy Lass and Mr. Pettigrew kept the photographers' schedule full. In the midst of all this frantic activity was Miss Kline, adviser. Assisting her was Miss Conklin who also directed sales, with Marilyn Canright as business manager.

The Meg Board spent Thanksgiving vacation at the N.S.P.A. convention in Chicago, along with high school editors from across the country.

"That's a good picture!" Sounds simple but much time, effort, and skill is involved. Photo Club members first have to consider arrangement, focus, and amount of light. These problems are discussed with Mr. Pettigrew, their adviser. To help them secure the best possible pictures, the Meg this year purchased a new "Crown Graphic" camera for their use. Once the photo is taken, the boys go to the darkroom to develop, print, and enlarge their pictures. This technical job the boys must do at home since the school has no darkroom. Early in the fall, the club made a trip through an engraving plant. There they were shown what kind of pictures would make good engravings in the yearbook and paper. Their good pictures now appear in the Meg, the Star, and other school publicity. Their bad pictures? Oh, they've practically disappeared!

MUSIC CLUB

The lovely music that comes from room E-328 on a Thursday afternoon after school means that another meeting of the Music Club is taking place.

The purpose of the club is to develop in students an appreciation of good music. This year, Miss Lemke, adviser for the group, arranged to have three excellent musical films shown. At the regular meetings, members enjoyed listening to classical and light musical recordings or were entertained by student and faculty talent.

Officers for the past year were Larry Rowell, president; Tom Soulén, vice-president, and Chloe Wendell, secretary-treasurer.

PEN 'N' INK

A steppingstone for future writers of the nation might be one of the titles attributed to the Pen 'n' Ink Club. Those members who have a flair for any certain field of writing are encouraged and aided by Mrs. Metzner, the faculty adviser. An informal atmosphere prevails at the meetings of Pen 'n' Ink. Criticisms of each person's work are made by the other members.

English teachers assist in the publishing of the Pen 'n' Ink magazine by submitting some of the better articles written by their students. Members of the club offer their creative efforts directly to the editorial board. Co-editors, Mary Ellen Reardon and Carol Rutte, together with the board, select the best of these for publication.

DEBATE AND FORENSICS

Resolved: "That the President of the United States should be elected by the direct vote of the people." This is the question that the debaters have been using this year. They are members of the Forensic Association.

Three rounds of practice debates were held at Port Washington, West Bend, and Sheboygan Central in preparation for the tournament held at West Allis Central. The Debate Club, under Mr. Schroeder, also makes public appearances at service clubs and church groups.

The officers this year are Harry Vernon, president; Bill Connell, vice-president; Anne McFarlane, recording secretary, and Lois Erdmann, corresponding secretary.

Working in the same channels the Forensic League, under the direction of Miss Johnson, does work on declamations, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and humorous readings.

MASK and WIG

The only club in school whose meetings are not important is presided over by Dean O'Brien. The work done outside of Mask and Wig club meetings by the members is much more important.

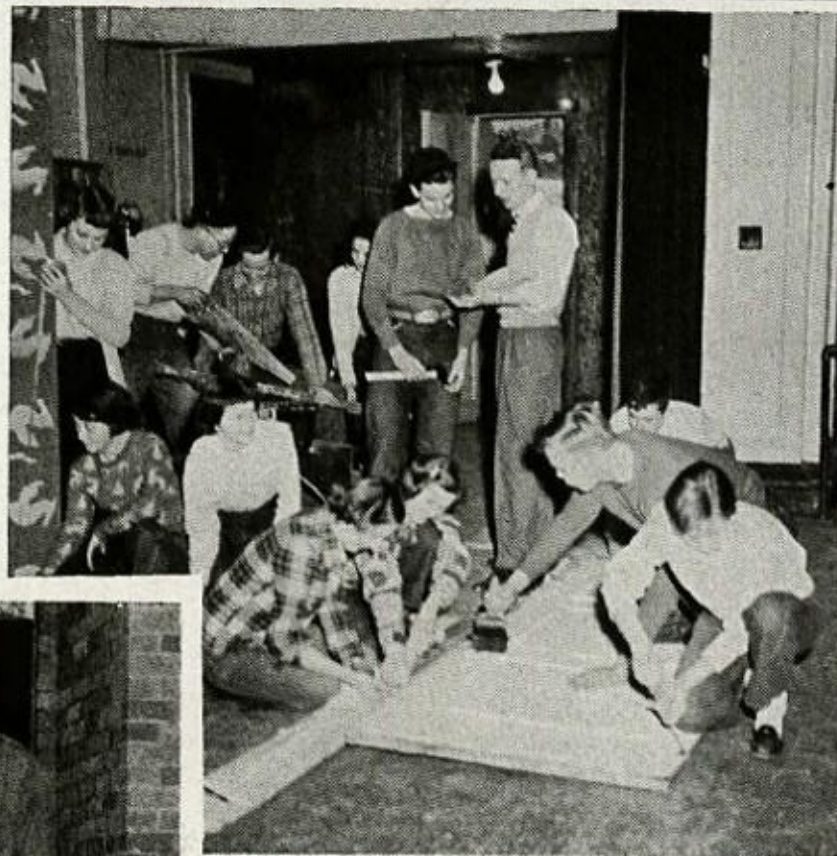

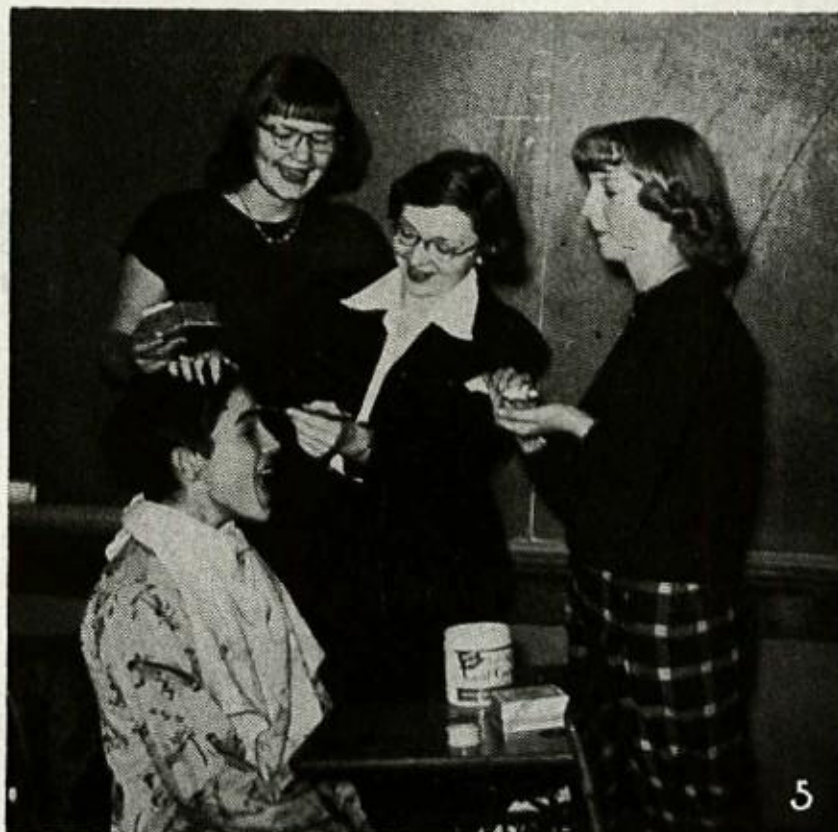

Everyone has a chance to use his own particular talent. Those who are interested in painting and building form the stage crew. The costumes used in all the senior high productions were obtained by the members of the costume committee.

Another of the six departments of this club is the prop committee. This group was held responsible for procuring all props needed for the plays. Lighting is one of the most specialized crews.

The future make-up artists of the school are trained by Miss Leman, who is the faculty adviser.

All of these groups comprise the work crews. Their chief faculty adviser, Mr. Metzner, could be found with the crew painting and hammering on the sets.

The members are rewarded for their diligence by a point system which may earn them a "W."

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

"Oh, the old ark's a moverin'; a moverin'; a moverin' . . ." The long line of students singing as they pass between buildings after first hour have just come from another eventful A Cappella choir session in E-328.

A Cappella, under the direction of Miss Monlux, is well known for its annual Christmas program which has become one of the season's loveliest traditions. The choir practices for many weeks, before it appears in formal black attire to present this performance to the public. Also in the line of traditional performances are the Spring Concert and Baccalaureate program.

This year, the one hundred and fifteen choir members elected Marshall Moss as their president with Art Beringer, vice-president, and Sally Clark and Ernie Schaefer as secretary and treasurer, respectively.

A smaller group of singers known as the Madrigals is chosen every year to sing for clubs and other functions where the larger group cannot be accommodated.

There's Something About A Band

BAND

The music still echoed in the ears of the audience as they departed from the band concert on March 30th. This concert is an annual affair presented by the senior high school band, under the direction of Mr. Carl Dollinger. However, this was not the first time the people of Waukesha heard the band play. Every football fan has heard and seen the band perform at Haertel Field between halves of the football games and the townspeople have also enjoyed them in community parades. This organization, composed of sixty-seven members, is often called upon to play in other civic affairs and also entertain at school assemblies.

SENIOR ORCHESTRA

The best in the presentation of music is the purpose of the senior orchestra.

Under the direction of Mr. Tilly, it encourages students to bring original compositions to the public. Its aim is to acquaint the students with the orchestral literature, to help them enjoy playing their instruments, and to prepare the students for playing with the Waukesha Symphony Orchestra.

The orchestra schedule is a busy one. A public concert in the spring and several assembly programs are on the agenda. More experienced members of the group belong to the advanced string section.

MUSIC GROUPS

"Music, music, music—." There's all kinds of music at Waukesha High and it comes in all forms; from the big, blaring Pep Band that boosts our spirits at spectator sports, to the mixed quartet that sings more of the "pops" variety of music. The quartet has entertained at women's clubs, service clubs and church groups, and, within the school walls, at assemblies.

Also in the field of vocal harmony are some less publicized groups. The talents of the Tenth Grade Ensemble have been enjoyed by the public via the radio and service group programs. Two smaller organizations of ninth and tenth grade girls are the Triple Trio and the Double Octette.

F. F. A.

The traditional F.F.A. — Faculty Basketball and Baseball Games, Parents' and Sons' Banquet, F.F.A.-F.H.A. Dance, local and district tournaments and Thanksgiving Poultry Auction are annual events featured by the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

The officers attended the Kansas City National F.F.A. Convention for a week with adviser Mr. Kelly. Besides, many members spent a day at the Chicago Livestock Exposition, three days at the Indianapolis Cattle Show, and the Wisconsin State Cattle Judging Contest at Madison.

Thirteen active committees have aided officers: Al Basse, president; Herbert Hoppe, vice-president; Dave Craig, secretary; and Jerry Dahlke, treasurer; in preparing regular Monday programs and special projects.

Forty boys have distinguished themselves by earning the "Wisconsin Farmer" honor.

F. H. A.

This year the F.H.A. has adopted a German home economics class as a special project to broaden friendly relations overseas.

At home, the organization gave its traditional Christmas party at the Children's Home. This annual occurrence brought joy and pleasure to all of the participants.

The club started this season by presenting an F.H.A. emblem ceremony to the assemblies. Mary Berish, president; who is also state vice-president; Doris Becker, vice-president; Anna Williams, secretary; and Maureen Egan, treasurer; clearly explained what the Future Homemakers of America hold as their ideals.

Mrs. Magnusson, the club's adviser, helped convoy the members to the district rally program and to demonstration contests. The F.H.A. completed the school year by taking an active part in the State Convention.

They Are Busy With Business

F. B. L. A.

The largest national high school club in the nation! That is the local Future Business Leaders of America which boasts of two hundred and ten members this year.

With Mr. Pipenburg as the adviser, the club started off a full year of activities by holding an Installation Night in November for the new officers and members. Roland Goldammer was installed as president, and his staff of officers was Alice Boettcher, vice-president; Gale Larson, secretary; and Ed Hasselkus, treasurer.

Programs for the weekly meetings were under the direction of Janice Woodman. They featured movies and discussions by local businessmen who planned to give members a better understanding of the business world.

Most of the club's funds were earned when members pitched in to sell programs at all of the football games.

The main social highlight this year was the Half Century Dance in January.

F.B.L.A. committee gets a briefing and a preview from Janice, the program chairman.

Fun Begins When Work is Done

HI-Y AND Y-TEENS

If anyone were looking for a source of friendship one found an answer in the Hi-Y and Y-Teen groups. Under the supervision of Miss Clemans the girls of the Y-Teens sponsored such projects as "Chocolate for Christmas" as well as many dances throughout the year.

The boys, not to be outdone, were very active under the leadership of Mr. Sutherland. One of the groups sponsored a boy's vacation at the Phantom Lake Camp. Both of these groups help educate their members in getting along with their fellow men.

ATTIC BOARD

The second floor of the Y.M.C.A. is a popular gathering place for high school students after games and after school. It is the "Cardinal Attic" which is governed by a board of two representatives from each of the four grades.

GIRL SCOUTS

Another industrious group is the Senior Girl Scouts. They are very active in the promotion of friendship. Projects such as "Packages for Europe", occupy much of the time and effort of this club.

JUNIOR HIGH ACTIVITIES

Junior High students are "eager beavers" when it comes to joining extra-curricular activities. The field is not limited to pursue. During their homeroom periods, the students participate in various clubs such as the Explorers' Club, Craft Clubs, and science groups.

One of the larger clubs which they can join is Powder and Paint. Experiences in the art of acting can be acquired here. The two productions given this year were "Enter George Washington" and "Everything Nice." Planning new, interesting, and original ideas for assemblies keeps the Assembly Commissions busy. The Junior C-4 Commission is interested in promoting "Courtesy Around the Clock." The ability to accept responsibility is shown by the members of the Safety Patrol.

Junior High students are always ready to take part in activities. They carry this enthusiasm with them into Senior High.

The Student Body

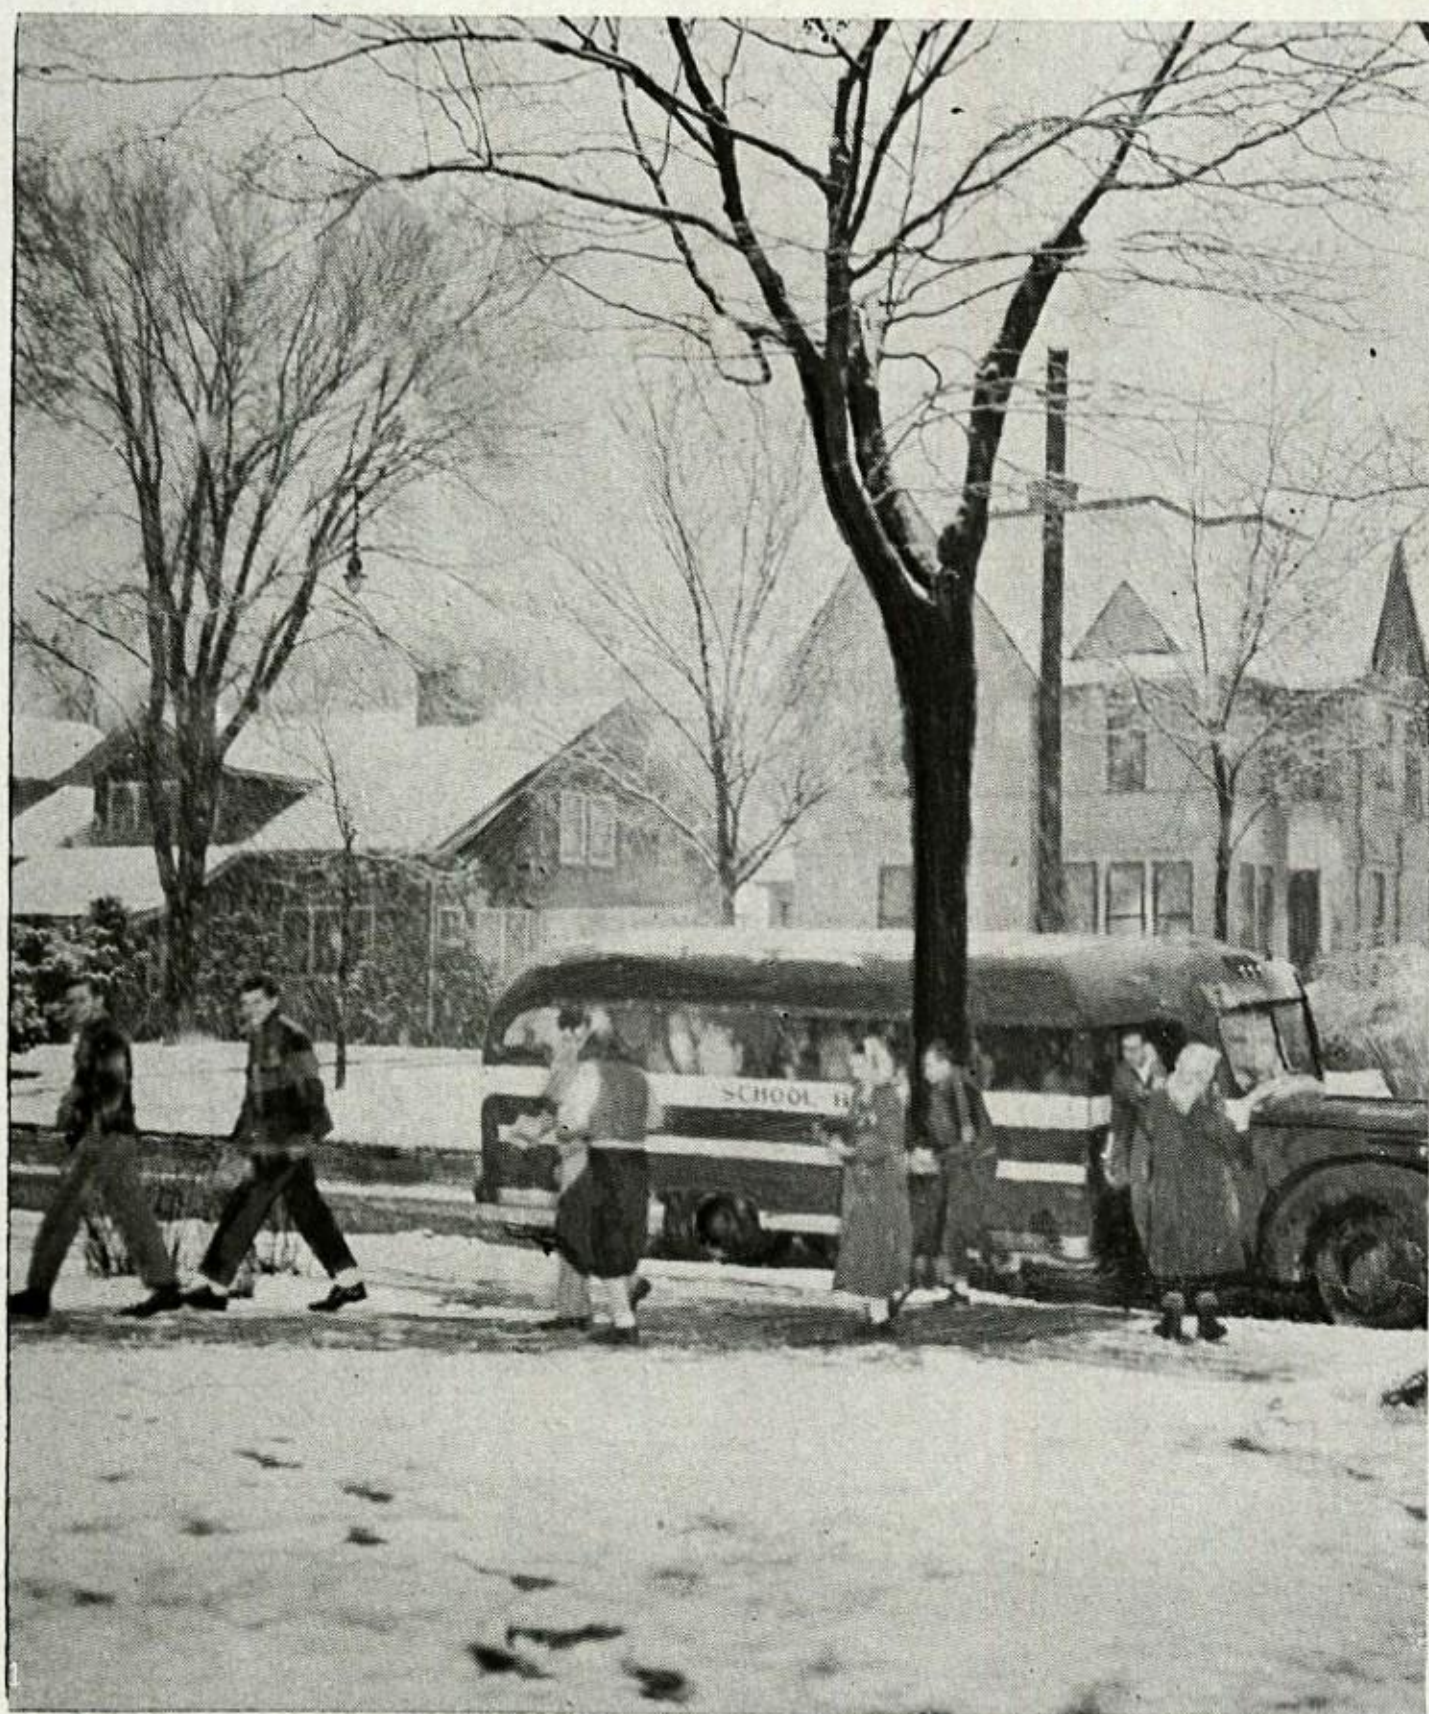

Students at Waukesha High represent a cross-section of youth in America. At first glance they all seem alike as they pile out of the school busses with their storm coats, short hair cuts, and turned-up collars. However, a second look finds each one to be an individual in himself. There are those who become leaders and their responsibility is great. But leaders can achieve little without the support of intelligent followers. These followers must cooperate with their chosen leaders, as the student body cooperated with class and club officers. As a result much was accomplished throughout the year. Practicing democracy here at school, they're proud of their public school record. Here a student succeeds or fails on his own merits. It makes no difference whether he is Jewish or Catholic, Mexican or Negro, Italian or German. Everything is up to him. Grateful for the opportunity of free education which has been theirs in this high school, the name Waukesha High will always command their respect and love.

CLASS ACTIVITIES

They were sophomores and really in senior high. They soon became acquainted with a new building, new teachers, and most of all their new class adviser, Miss Nehls.

The sophs plunged into school activities earnestly and could be seen after school working on committees and programs which were all a part of their school life. They elected their class officers who were, Art Rahn, president; Jerry Seidl, vice-president; Nancy Pfeil, secretary; and Jack Mathie, treasurer. With the help of Mrs. Fryatt and Miss Nehls, everyone worked hard to make their sophomore party one to remember.

Class Adviser, Miss Wulfing

CLASS ACTIVITIES

At last, they're upper classmen preparing to take their turn as leaders. Miss Wulfing, the adviser, was glad to see them assume more responsibility and get a bit more serious, though they still were full of fun. They showed their responsibility and had a great time when they sponsored the comedy, "A Young Man's Fancy."

Of course, the biggest thrill of the year was the prom. Headed by Al Basse, the Prom King, the officers, Tony Dick, vice-president; Mary Berish, secretary; and Wayne Wagner, treasurer; chose the committees who worked with Mrs. Fryatt to plan the gala affair.

The class of 1950 — the mid-century class — stamps "finis" across another set of high school records. All the things which have been so important in their daily lives now become golden memories.

Along with Miss Hopkins, the thoughtful little lady whose firm and steady hand has successfully guided them through fun-packed high school days, senior officers; Dennis Horr, president; Ernst Schaefer, vice-president; Nancy Gagan, secretary; Ralph Dudek, treasurer; worked faithfully to make Senior Night, Baccalaureate, and Graduation unforgettable thrills, as they say "Good-bye, dear old high".

Class Adviser: Miss Hopkins

To "Good News" and To Honors Assembly

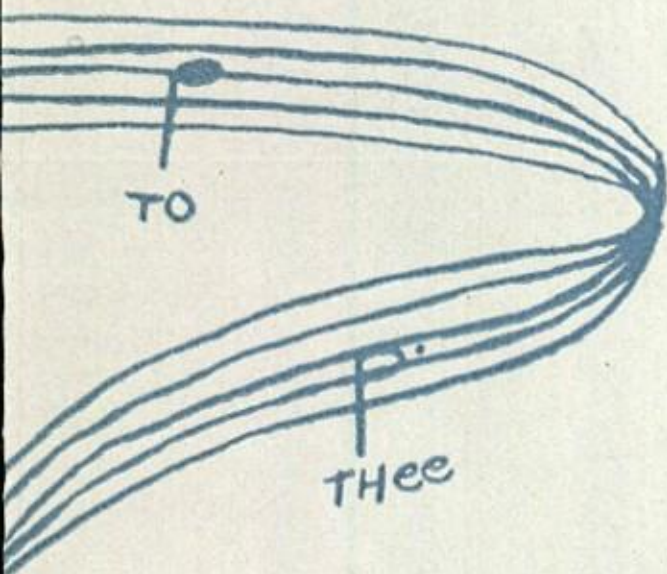

School Life

Even though classes fill six hours of the school day, they are but a small part of the memories of high school. Every student remembers the suspense at report card time . . . cheering at football games . . . practicing for "Good News" . . . riding on the school bus . . . cramming for a Spanish exam . . . trying to increase one's typing speed . . . meeting the gang at the Attic. . . the A Cappella Christmas program . . . saving seats at basketball games . . . getting a date for a Rec. Dance . . . planning a homecoming float . . . "collecting" history books . . . reading the Cardinal Star . . . the grand march at Prom . . . experiments in the chemistry lab. . . the Honor Society banquet . . . complaining about the English assignment . . . the thrill of graduation . . .

These are the problems and joys of high school . . . these are the symbols of Waukesha loyalty.

I Won't Forget—Will You?

Dear Frank,

First of all, like all the rest I'll wish you all the happiness in the world.
Remember the fun we've had in
Jr. Bus with our gum business. That Combinhub!!!?? Our little corner (as I refer to it) is really a riot aint it??

You really were terrific in orchestra
Yes, I heard you play. I'm in assembly too!! When I think back on W.H.S. I'll be sure and think of you like you asked in my msg!! Again all the luck in the world to a swell guy.

You asked me to write,
do I write out a form,
But, just to be different,
I'll write it upside down.
